~Cindy~

To someone I'm glad I had the chance to meet. Did you know that you & Tracy are NUTS! Anyway, it was nice getting to know you. I hope you have a great summer and we'll probably see each other around next year.

DEAR "CINDY"
I WOULD LIKE TO THANK YOU
FOR ALL THE VERY NICE THINGS
YOU HAVE DONE FOR ME. YOU HAVE BROUGHT VERY MANY SMILES TO MY FACE. AND MANY MEMORIES THAT CAN'T BE ERASED. I SEE A LONG TIME FOR US
BOTH AND MANY MORE SMILES TO COME.
CINDY YOU HAVE TOUCHED MY HEART LIKE
KNOW ONE ELSE HAS EVER DONE. THANK YOU
"GOD BLESS YOU" "MARK #44" "CINDARELLA"

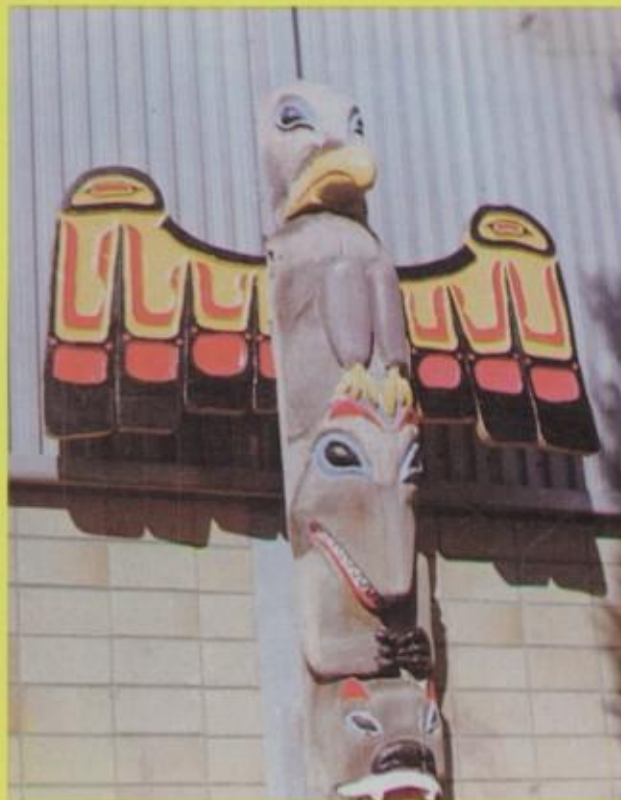

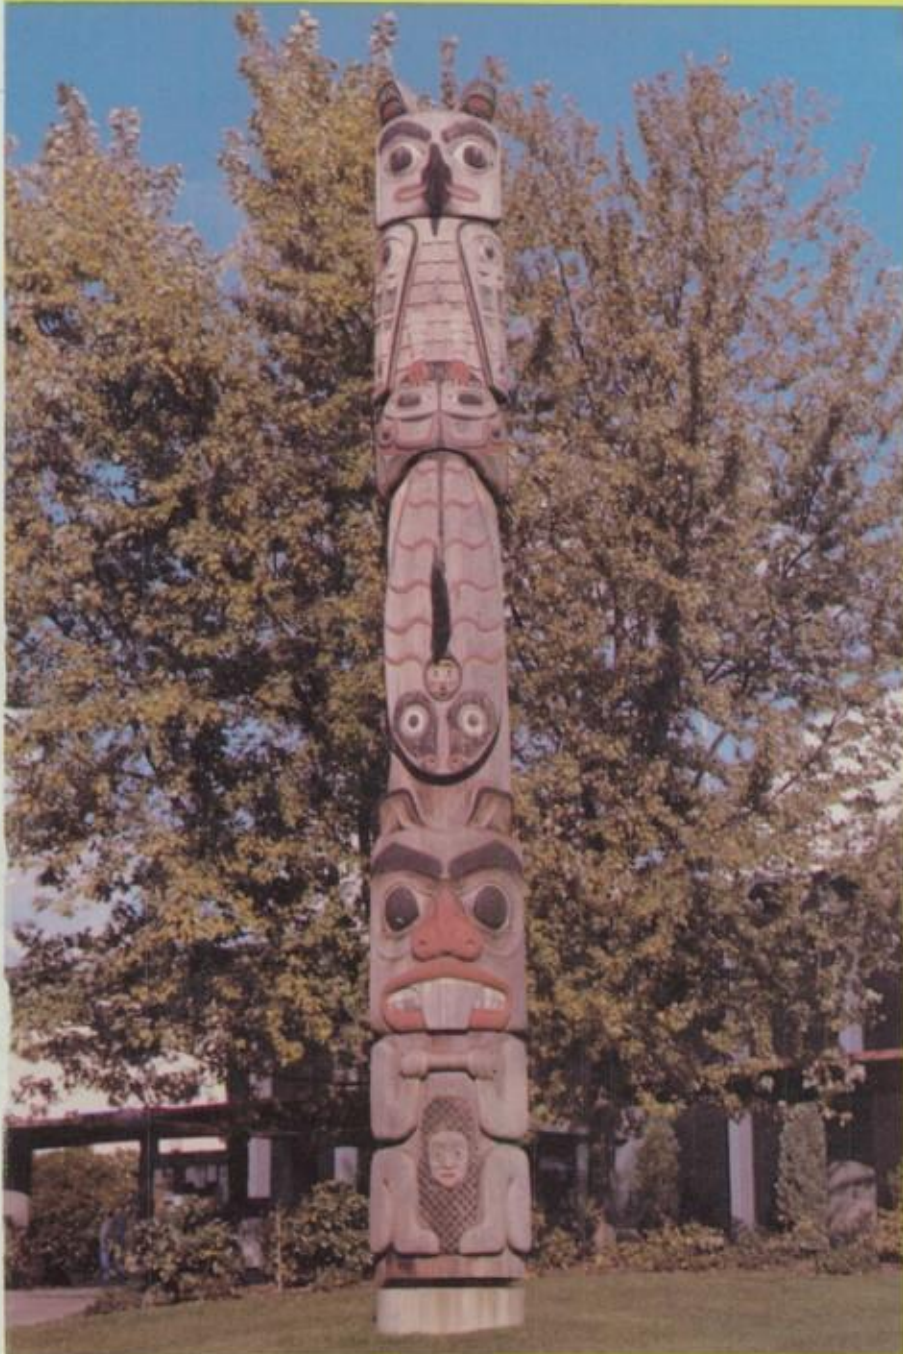

— YOUR THE ONLY ONE
— I LOVE —
AND YOU CANT
CHANGE THAT !!!

Cindy,
Can you believe it? We're finally seniors.
These past few years
have gone by so fast.
I really hope our friendship became closer again, we haven't been doing much together lately and I really miss that because we go out. I wish you weren't a good time when we go out. I miss ya when your leaving for Mexico so soon, all miss ya when your gone. (you better write) Your going to be all tan when you come back and I'll be all white. We have to plan our trip to Hawaii, Boy I'm starting soon. Cindy we can't let our friendship go down the drain because we've had so many good times together. The least we could do is give each other a call. But when you get home from Mexico, me, you and Ruth have to go out.

CREATING

Dedicated

We know we have what it takes Though sometimes it seems impossible

We'll keep striving for perfection
And make it look easy.

There is a world
Prepared for us whether by Good intentions or false pretenses
We can do with it what we wish
Knowing how is the key.

LEARNING

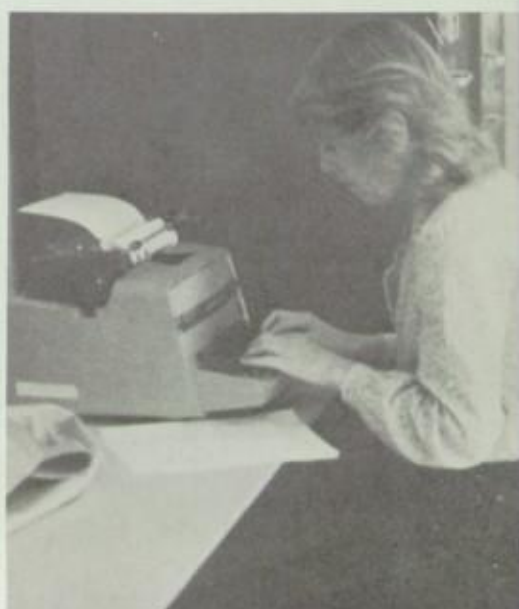

SERVICE

Leaders exist
Only when people support them.
Many ideas come to life
With the help of people who care
The result is success.

RECOGNITION

Achievement is Striving to do more than just
What is considered acceptable
Giving all you have, all the time
And just a little more.

Times spent together
After the day is over Hold special moments for everyone

LEISURE

Dining, dancing or just enjoying
These are the best of times.

A forever friend
Is waiting for me somewhere
A smile, a kind word, a helping hand
And suddenly that friend is found.
A memory is begun.

2 Band members Tim Ritter, Don Kuch, Steve McKinney, Russ Diehl and Russ Campbell are ready for Tequila.

3 Volleyball player Sue Kinley takes a break as she is worn out from practice.

4 All tied up Todd Millican and his freshmen team "unwind" during the potlatch competition.

5 Awaiting to find out who the class competition winners are, the seniors are tense.

6 Members of faculty and students prepare for the three-legged race during a pep assembly.

7 Junior Bruce Tegen sits patiently to start a new business assignment.

10 Casually, seniors Laura Greninger and Colleen Morriss walk to class.

Thunderbirds lead the way

Seniors

Sarina Raab is obviously pleased to be a part of the senior class.

Tony Freeborn says goodbye to another long day of senior activities.

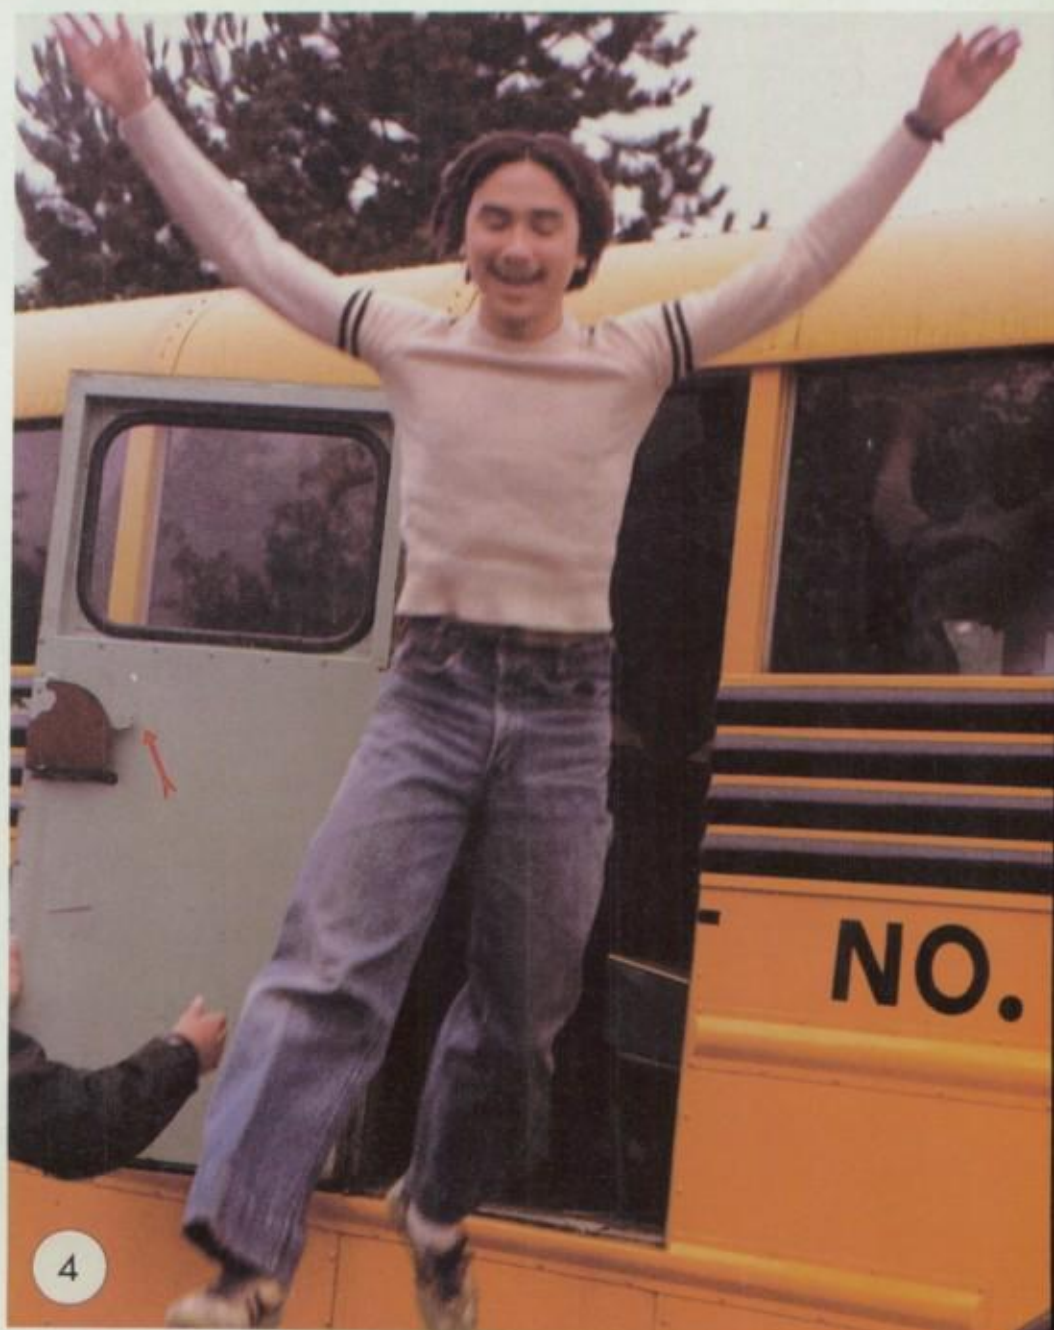

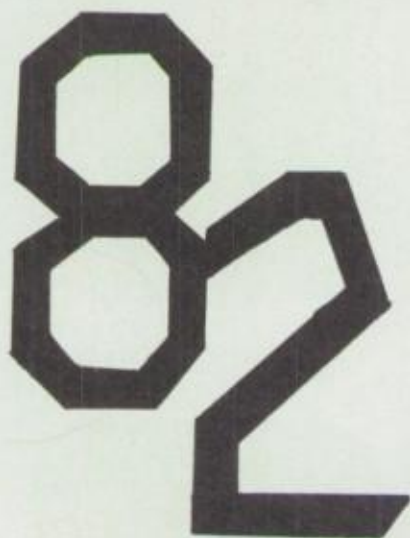

Old buddies Laurie Haynes and Gail DeSanto show their happiness upon reaching the senior bleachers.

Rhonda Watson, Larry Frostad and Annette Baldrige discuss the achievements of the girls' soccer team.

Mark Rhodes tries to consume as much of his apple as possible in one bite.

Walking down the aisle, this year's Senior Class prepares to take its place in the adult world. No one's going to tell them what to do anymore. What a difference from their sophomore days! Everyone was telling them where to go, what to do and how to do it! That feeling of security is definitely diminishing. The seniors prepared Homecoming for all the past classes that have gone through Tyee. I'm sure that during this time of nostalgia for alumni, there were feelings of apprehension for graduating seniors. "Where are we going to be in 10 years?" As the year progressed there were other happenings, continual reminders of the road ahead. Their last Harvest dance, their last Tolo and their Senior Prom. Class day, as always, was both a happy and a sad time. The last singing of the Alma Mater brought tears to many senior's eye. Then came graduation... somehow the gym looked very different than when basketball and wrestling occupied the attention of the spectators. A lot of things are beginning to look different. Maybe it's just that they are looking at things differently. As the years go by, one thing will stay the same. My spirit will always remain inside their hearts.

- 1 Seniors Debbie Hanson and Wade Calvin express their love for the Class of '82 as well as each other.
- 2 President Jeff Kalin, vice president Jackie Mah, treasurer Gina Gauger, secretary Margie Wills, senator George Minegishi, historian Bonnie Murray.
- 3 Kevin Spriggs, Dave Warf and Kevin Grillo listen to classmate Jeff Allen to find out the senior lineup for that evening's game.
- 4 After twelve years of practice, Gabe Hall demonstrates the correct form for jumping from the bus.

'83 looks toward senior year

Juniors

- 1 Taking a break from a TASC meeting, DeLana Akers shows Mia Hankins the funny part in the book she's reading.
- 2 During 6th period Lisa Zoscak works in the attendance office stuffing scan sheets into their envelopes for morning classes.
- 3 During an assembly, the juniors await to hear who won the class competition.

Under president John Barton, the juniors got it together early by winning the Potlatch Totem. Even before that, the day before school started, this industrious class was here cleaning the campus for the opening of school. They continued cleaning throughout the year for special occasions such as accreditation day and open house, earning $375. Other fund-raisers included bake sales and sock sales. Treasurer Roger Kim kept track of these proceeds plus money earned at the giftwrap booth to finance Prom '82 on April 10. Adviser Lindy Alment counseled the officers and helped them arrange things like the band (Archer), the location (Green River Community College) and other difficult aspects of putting on the year's biggest dance that draws so many from all four classes

Class of '84 gives a bit more

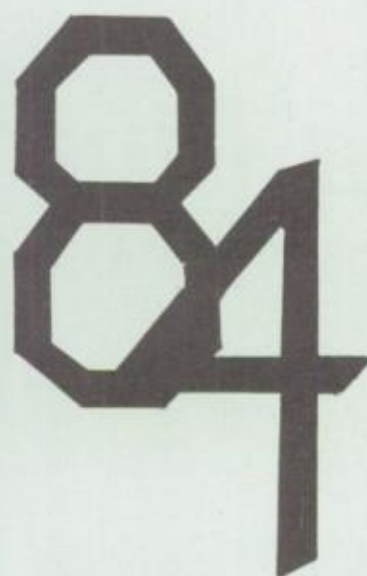

SOPHS

- 1 Willy LaBossier "punks out" with his striped shirt and rainbow-tinted sunglasses.
- 2 President Jan Jensen, v.p. Devin Hermanson, secretary Lisa Anderson, treasurer Mike Ishii, historian Steve Westbrook and senator Teresa Herman.
- 3 Duane Nicholas points out the more interesting parts of his book to Janet Hay.
- 4 GO,FIGHT,WIN!!! Kathy Szyperski vigorously cheers Totems on to victory.

Starting with second place in Potlatch competitions, the sophomores proved early that they were a spirited group. Led by president Jan Jensen, the class raised more money than past classes in preparations for sponsoring Prom next year. They sold hot chocolate Tuesday and Thursday mornings during the winter, Tyee Stickers and buttons, and coupon books. In addition to the $298.

raised in these sales, they earned $318.60 at the giftwrap booth. The officers who organized the many activities were vice president Devin Hermanson, secretary Lisa Anderson treasurer Mike Ishii, historian Steve Westbrook and senator Teresa Herman. Adviser Russ Carlson processed ideas that the class developed and provided ways to reach those goals.

- 1 Keith Childs and Joni Stover show sophomore spirit by volunteering time to DECA's concession stands.
- 2 Brian Rasmussen and Diana Rillera work diligently to make the longest paper chain.
- 3 With her feet, Karri Anderson paints the sophomore favorite "Tequila," or was that "Tequila"?

Freshman worked on building their Totem pride, and having an excellent freshman football team helped. During their first year at Tyee, they sold pepperoni, mistletoe, pens, pencils and jewelry. With so much variety, how could they lose? Treasurer Mark Lemoine kept track of their proceeds and with the help of president Jeff Burns, vice president Brian Belongia, secretary Mickey Crosslin and senator Donna Person, the Class of '85 began their trek through the wild years of high school. Historian Kris Nelson attempted to capture all the excitement of a new school with new experiences. The freshmen knew why they were here and a successful first year proved it.

SPIRIT

1 The cheer staff takes pride in their country as well as their school.

2 How lucky can you get? Plain-clothes-man Myron Blazer holds hands with both witchy Sue Starnes and cowgirl Missy Chan.

3 Mike Gunter takes his stubborn fox for a walk.

5 The Pep Club spirit ring gets Marlene Hall psyched for the afternoon's soccer game.

6 Russell Diehl's face shows the gooey, cold sensation of wet paint on his toes as Marianne Sumpter looks on.

7 Charlene Blanchard, Sandy Pickup, Darcy Jordan, Kim Wood and Sheila Oberloh anticipate the next move of their performance.

8 The Sophomore Class wins the class competition with their toe-art Tequila sign.

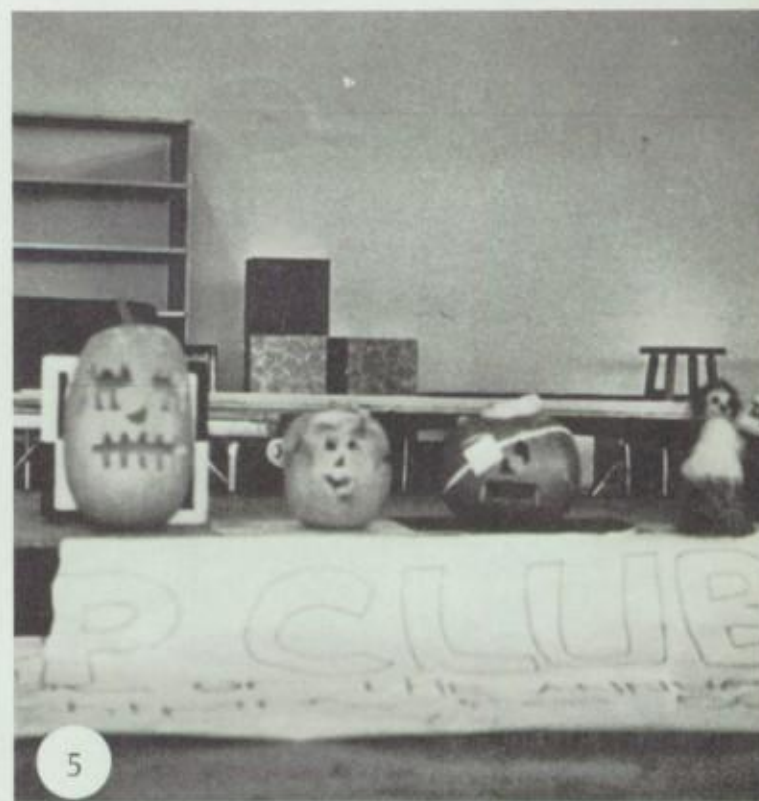

Spirit generated in many ways

- 1 Totems sculpture their spirit in the snow by building a snowman on the T-bird during Christmas vacation.
- 2 Dave McKinney clicks his heels and expresses Totem spirit with a hat and scarf sold by the Senior Class.
- 3 DDP students Shannon Brindle, Shelly Zimmerman, Eric Trisler and Arthur Wold "play" for Halloween spirit.
- 4 The cold and fog sure won't hurt the spirit in the Alma Mater at this game!
- 5 Mr. Smith counts the winning cans to gloat over Mrs. Marchbank's second period class in the canned food drive.

Every Thursday in room 801, something wonderful happened. Concerned students got together with Mrs. Davila and thought up ways to support our school. They decided to fill our stomachs with chocolates and baked goodies, build our self-image with sports tags and posters and reward hard work with season-end parties. Pep Club made a spirit ring for the soccer team and later used it at basketball games. During Homecoming week, the 49 peppers decorated the basketball players and wrestlers lockers. President Karen Canary tried to stress that every sport was equal and important and vice president Andrea Johnson, secretary Kris Canary and treasurer Shannon Jones helped to see that this policy was carried out. The members bought T-shirts to wear on game days helping to fill the bleachers with red and gold. The Pep Club party at the end of the year honored the pepper-of-the-year.

- 1 Gabe Hall ghouls around on the Pep Club-sponsored dress-up day on Halloween.
- 2 President Karen Canary, vice president Andrea Johnson, secretary Kris Canary, treasurer Shannon Jones.
- 3 Three first period classes, the library, Miss Carretta's, and Mr. Houck's, got to gorge on this cake for having the highest percentages of costumed people on Halloween.

'Tequila' brings students to feet, hands clapping

- 1 Our favorite pep assembly emcee, Jeff Allen, entertains the crowd with another of his "Allenesque" remarks.
- 2 Drummer John James, Russ Campbell and Don Kuch wait for their cue to start the band's jazzy rendition of "Tequila."
- 3 Playing "footsies" with red and gold paint, freshman Mark Lemoine and Tracy Beltz race time to complete a poster.
- 4 Drill Team members Sandi Pickup, Darcie Jordan and Jaycee Meredith kick their legs with spirit for Tyee.
- 5 Sophomores Cara Holmes and Andy Goranson use their unique eating techniques during a class competition.
- 6 Senior John Anderson watches the clock as Brenda Gulsvig attempts to add another card to their growing house.
- 7 Seniors watch intently as their classmates compete for first place in one of the class competitions held this year.
- 8 Seniors Kevin Grillo and Andrea Jorgenson try to glue the paper chain together instead of their fingers.

to victory by double squads

"You've got spirit, so let's hear it!" The cheerleaders certainly had to have a lot of spirit to be chosen last year for the fall and winter seasons. The girls attended cheer camp to build unity throughout the year, vital to the success and spirit of each squad. The fall cheerleaders rallied at football, volleyball, girls soccer and swimming. The winter squad was split into two groups which alternated between the boys swim meets, wrestling matches and basketball games. The two staffs had busy schedules with assemblies, practices and games, so homework soon became a rare pastime. Miss Rankin made sure the girls got the game schedules and played an important role in keeping the peace during "bull sessions" at practices. The winter uniforms for the two squads were late getting here and arrived just in time for Homecoming. "Pawnee" and "Tequila," two old favorites, were among the most popular routines of the year and many new cheers were introduced.

'83 victorious in Potlatch week lunchtime games

Potlatch is an Indian celebration that has become tradition at Tyee. Class teams competed in various crazy activities during lunchtime one week in early October. Activities included shaving balloons, wrapping toilet paper and tossing water balloons. With combined scores in both lunches, the juniors won each competition. The first servant sale of the year raised $84 for AST and resulted in an odd assortment of slaves on Thursday. The Potlatch bonfire was held Wednesday evening on the soccer field under the watchful eyes of the Angle Lake Fire Department. Students came to bask in the warmth of the firelight as cheerleaders raised spirits to a frenzy. Afterwards, an all-school ice cream feed served to cool down heated spirits. In final class competition during Friday's assembly the juniors easily won the tug-o-war, the seniors won the izzy-dizzy with their basketball prowess, and after a controversial moment the juniors took the circle sit. With their many victories, the Class of '83 walked away with first prize, a miniature Totem pole which they proudly displayed in Mr. Aliment's office for the rest of the year. All the work that AST executive council put in resulted in a lot of fun for 800 Totems and four firemen.

- 1 Freshmen Brian Belongia, Erin Lacey and Don Conrad pass the roll around to attempt a Frosh victory.
- 2 Oops! There's a hole in your circle sit, juniors!
- 3 Cecilia Sheeks shows her senior spirit by joining in on the izzy-dizzy contest.
- 4 The izzy gets sophomore Denise Moss dizzy before she falls to the floor.
- 5 Kevin Flick figures if ya' can't wrap it up, why not throw it up?
- 6 Jeff Allen reads the students the results of the games that he's been tallying through the week.
- 7 The Class of '82 keeps the tee-pee building tradition going.

Keeping in step means practice

- 2 Danita Klein, Gina Dewar, Julie Boze and Renee LeGrande practice keeping in step.
- 3 Jaycee Meredith watches for her cue in the routine "Knock on Wood".

Getting it altogether this year were 13 freshmen, seven sophomores and three juniors—plus one senior. Captain Sheila Oberloh and Coach Kathy Meredith helped two dance choreographers work up several routines including "Knock on Wood" and "Yankee Doodle." They practiced for performances at football and basketball games and pep assemblies on Mondays, Wednesdays and Thursdays with extra pre-performance practices on Friday mornings. On September 29 they performed "Saint 71", a routine to the tune of "When the Saints Go Marching In" with 17 other drill teams and bands during halftime at the Husky game. To raise money for their new red, white and gold uniforms, the girls held bake sales the first Wednesday of each month through January. The team kept right in step with the times.

Spikers volley tough season in frustrating year

Although the final stats were a bit disappointing, the 1981 volleyball team won one very special game. The JV team won the game against Mt. Si "for Mr. Scott", assistant coach who left before the season was over. He faithfully commuted every day for practices and games. The varsity's sole victory was against Liberty. Bonnie Murray, most inspirational player, was this year's captain. Other outstanding players were Sheri Wyatt, Brenda Jamison and Shari Larsen who were voted best spiker, best setter and most improved. JV's best spiker was Cara Holmes and best setter was Julia Hay who was also voted most inspirational. Miss L's 14 girls never gave up fighting throughout the season which made them a close knit group. Susan Kinley suffered the only injury of the season when she broke her toe while going for a ball headed out of bounds. Spiking, setting and serving their way through the season, all were a little disappointed with the results but glad for the experience.

- 1 Senior Sue Kinley shows her jumping ability as Delana Akers and Tami Passmore ready for the return.
- 2 Sophomore Lisa Anderson watches excitedly as junior Sheri Wyatt successfully gets the ball high into the air.
- 3 Melanie Devine puts her head together with the rest of the team to give a cheer.
- 4 JV coach Mr. Scott studies the playing style of his team.
- 5 Varsity coach Miss L. ponders a better strategy for her players.
- 6 Volleyball Team: front, from left: Brenda Jamison; second row: Denise Moss, B-tar Jones; third row: Sue Kinley, Tessy King, Lisa Anderson; fourth row: Paula Hineman, Becky Arvin, Cara Holmes; sixth row: Tami Passmore, Shari Larsen; seventh row: Sheri Wyatt.

Injuries plague promising team

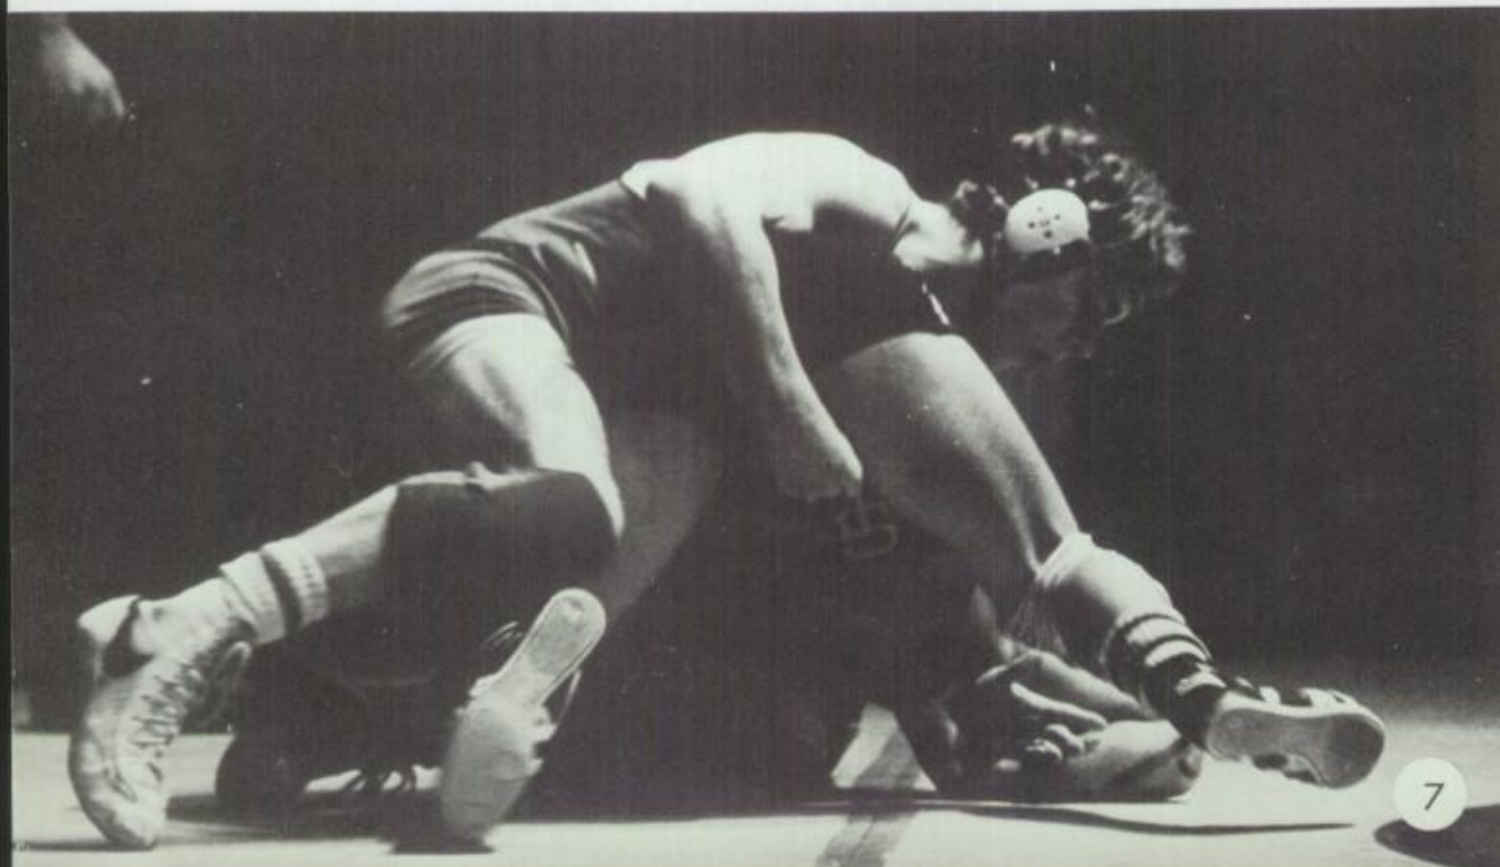

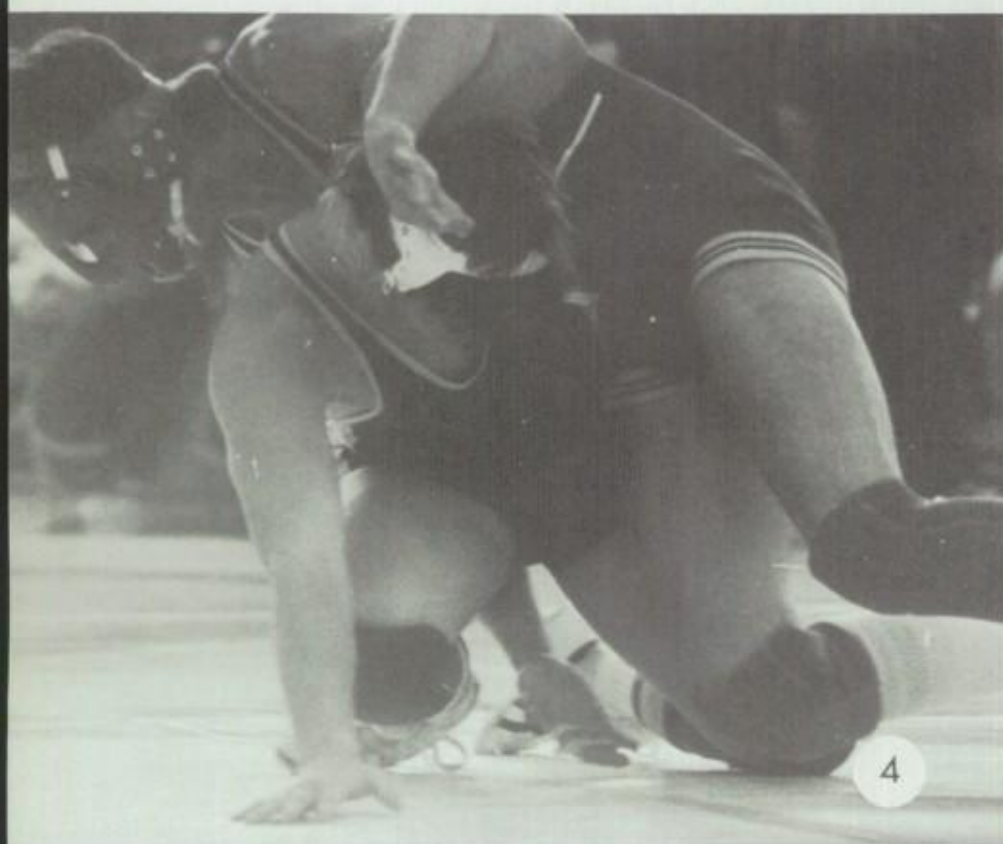

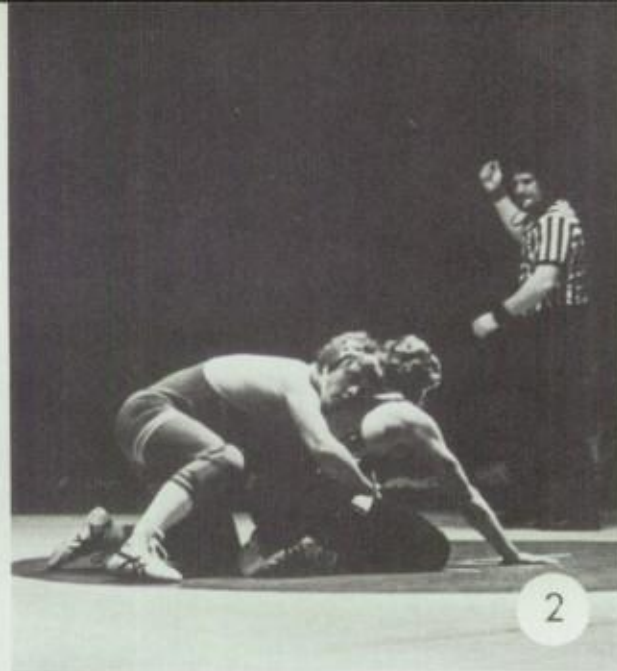

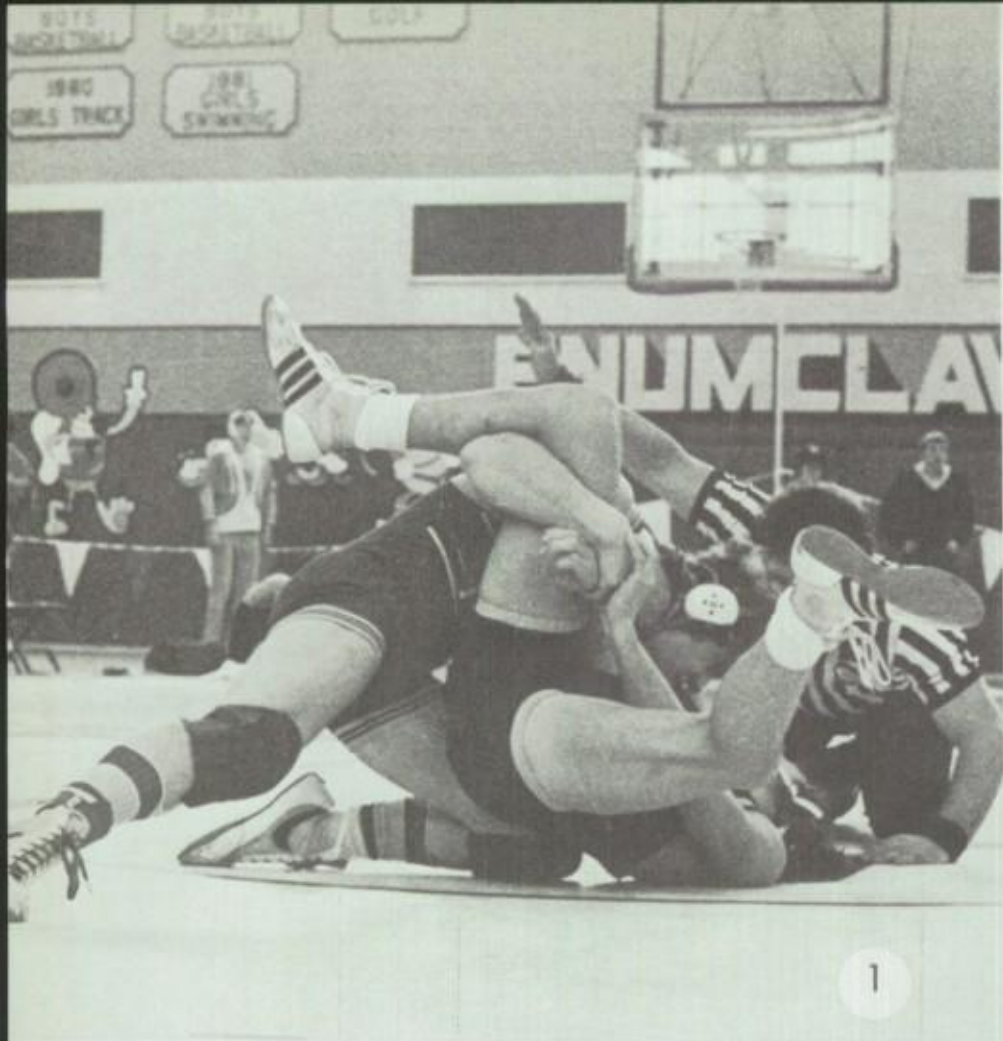

- 1 Sophomore Gary Human, who wrestles varsity at 101 lbs., has a very good high bridge when resting a pin.
- 2 Junior Jeff Stefanick stretches out at a wrestling practice so he'll be limber when he starts to wrestle.
- 3 Coach Mattson gives some final information to his wrestlers before they go out to defeat their opponent.
- 4 At 135 lbs., Willy LaBossier tries to win his match at the Enumclaw Invitational.

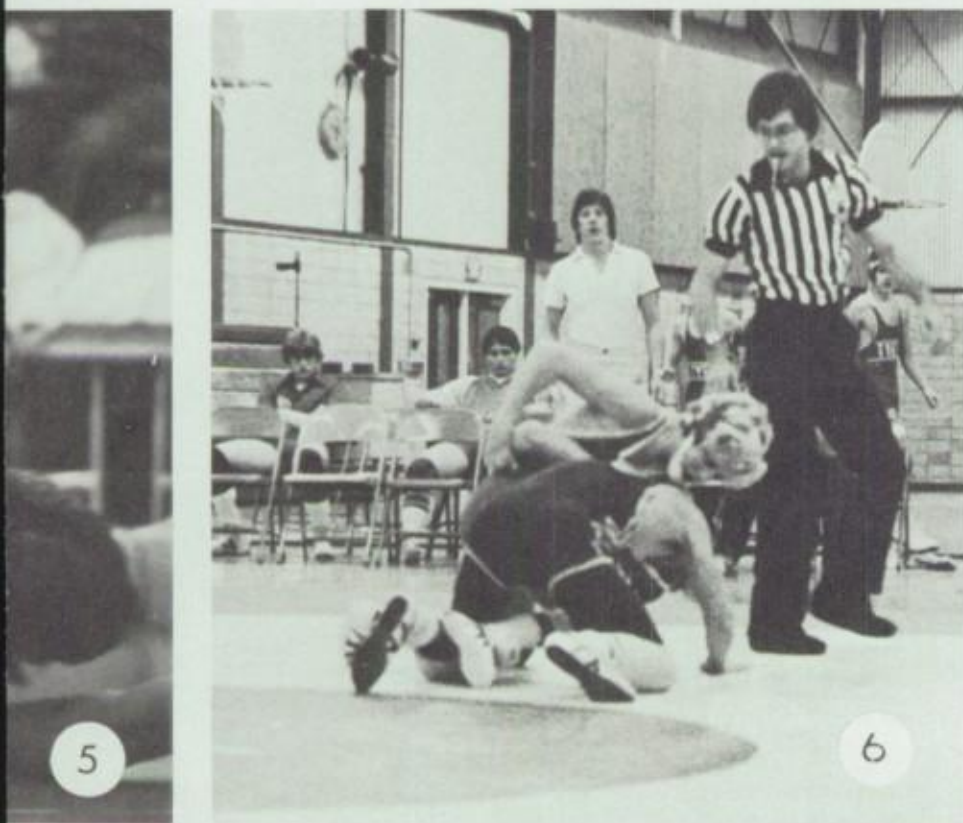

Tyee grapplers started the year with high hopes and a strong team. Many wrestlers had excellent early matches, but one by one injuries took the toll of the Totems. Of the 15 wrestlers, 13 were injured and several of those were out for the season. David Rillera suffered multiple leg injuries so he became the team's manager. Rick Kalamar tried to continue despite torn cartilage in his knee but was reinjured. Most inspirational Steve Westbrook, most improved Grant Allen and captain George Minegishi overcame the injury jinx by finishing the season. In all, 15 wrestlers on both the varsity and JV squads suffered injuries, a statistic which presented a problem when time came to present the Hardluck Injury Award—all 15 were recognized, Russ Diehl was awarded the P-pig award because he failed to resist his varied appetite. Sophomore Steve Westbrook and seniors George Minegishi, Tod Francisco and Kurt Wurdeman all advanced to district competition and Tod and Steve continued on to state. Tod was injured but Steve placed 7th in his class. A final record of 6 wins, 5 losses doesn't begin to show the actual achievements of the team, but the overall improvement individually helped build a stronger team for next year.

- 1 Junior Jamie Straus tied for most pins this year. He wrestles at 122 lbs. against his opponent at the Enumclaw Invitational.
- 2 Junior Russell Diehl, who wrestles at 122 lbs., walks away with a win over his Shorecrest opponent.
- 3 Kal Gunter, who wrestles JV, attempts to pin his man at the Tyee Invitational.

Totem wrestlers hold their gains through season

- 1 Sophomore Steve Westbrook wins this decision, 12-2, to take first place in sub-regionals at 158 lbs.
- 2 Senior Kurt Wurdeman wrestles a Fife opponent to win his match, 11-6.
- 3 Senior Rick Kalamar who wrestles at 168 lbs. took a first at the sub-regionals which were held at Enumclaw High School.
- 4 Battling both opponents and injuries, Tod Francisco went to state at 190 lbs.
- 5 At Tyee's Invitational tournament captain, George Minegishi pins his Highline opponent.
- 6 Freshman Mark Lemoine, a good future prospect for Tyee, took first place at one of the JV tournaments.
- 7 Steve Westbrook works to place seventh in state, ending the season with a 20-5 record.

Mermaids win practice meet in winless season

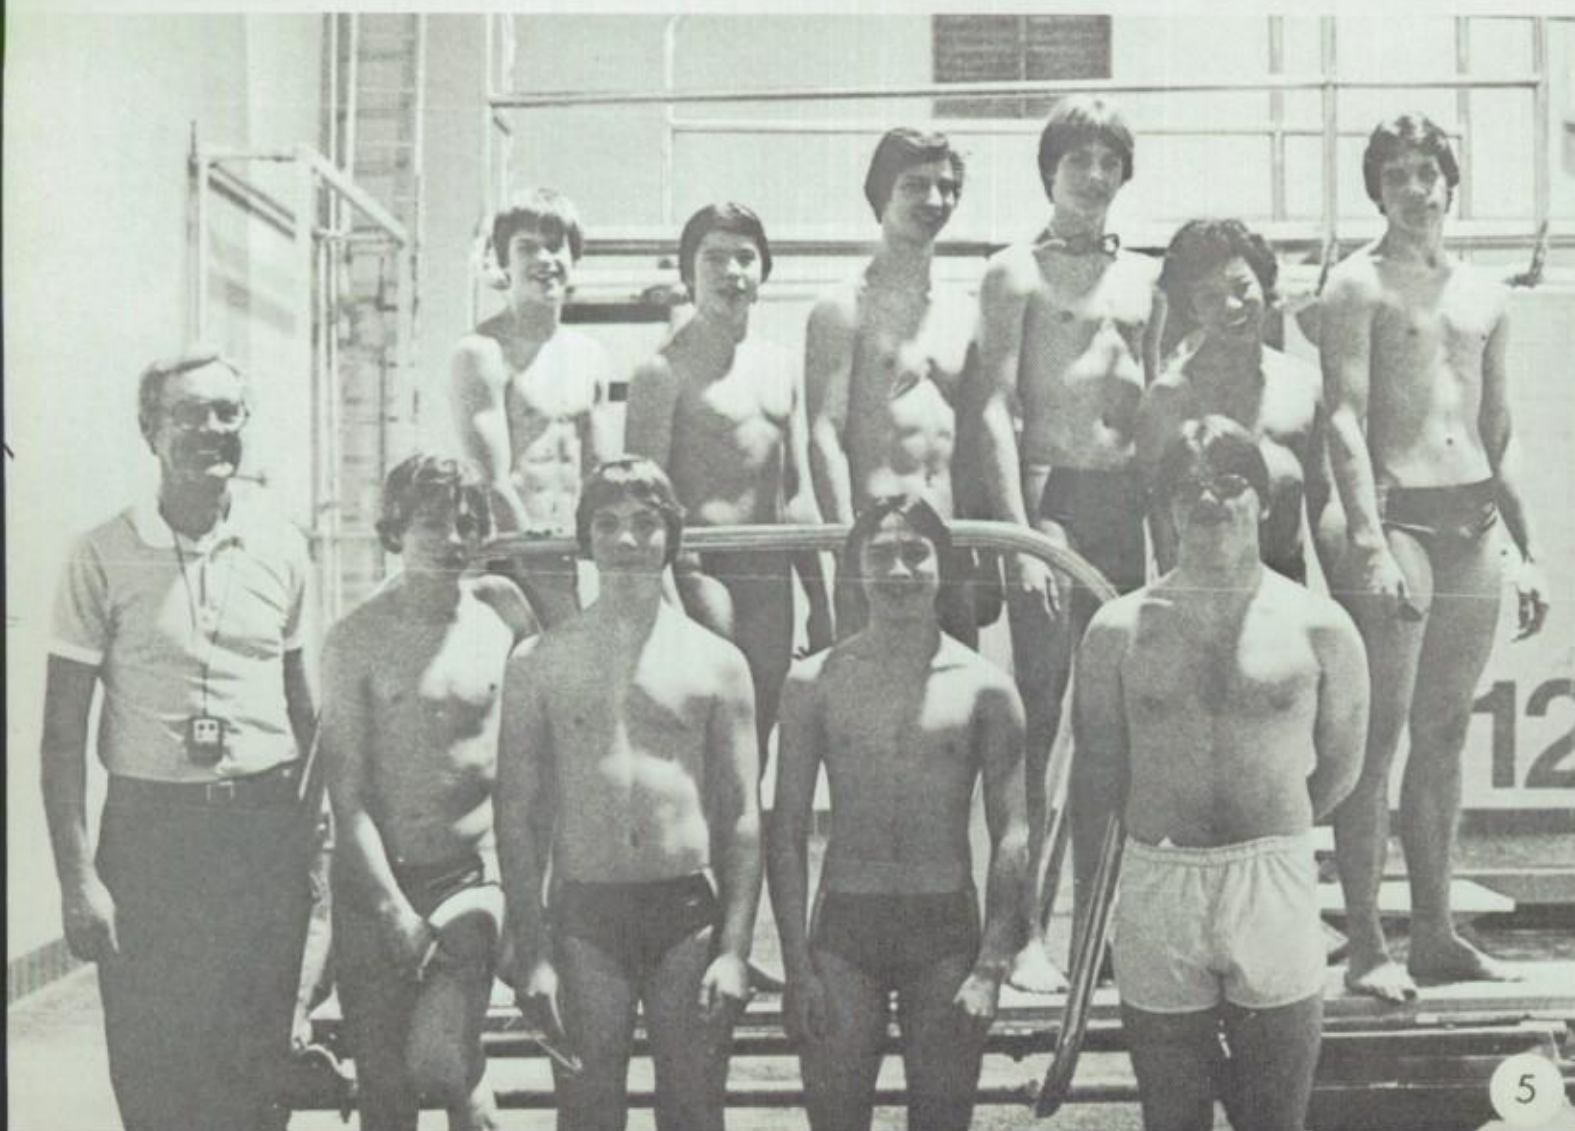

The girls swimming team's final league record was 0 and 6, but they did not lose all their meets. Their final meet against Evergreen, although a practice one, was won by a 7-point margin. One outstanding swimmer this season was Mari-Lea Marx who swam the 500-yd. freestyle. Most improved Susan Price swam the 100-yd. backstroke and freestyle, and most inspirational Julie Abbott swam the 100-yd. butterfly. Captain Julie will be succeeded by Lisa Pepin next year. Coach Fred Ronhaar had a versatile team since every swimmer swam in almost every event at least once. The underclassmen look forward eagerly to next season when they can use the experience acquired this year.

Captain Scifers recognized for outstanding year

Tyee and Mt. Rainier shared a lot of things this season, including swim coaches. Fred Ronhaar took the divers and Mt. Rainier's coach, Paula Strokhe took the swimmers. Led by captain Leland Scifers, 11 swimmers turned out to compete in 11 events. Every member had to swim three events each meet. They gave it all they had- -in fact, freshman Kevin Kennedy swam more than his 20 laps in the 500-yd. freestyle in three separate occasions. The extra work must have paid off because Kevin was voted most improved at the banquet. John Barton and Dave Padget will be next year's co-captains and freshman Jeff Ibuki was most inspirational. Leland Scifers also received an award for his outstanding performance in the 500-yd. freestyle with first places nearly every meet. Because of an order mixup, the new uniforms arrived just for the last meet. The season was almost injury-free except for one minor incident when senior Ken Briscoe ran into the wall.

Injuries, illness press small team all season long

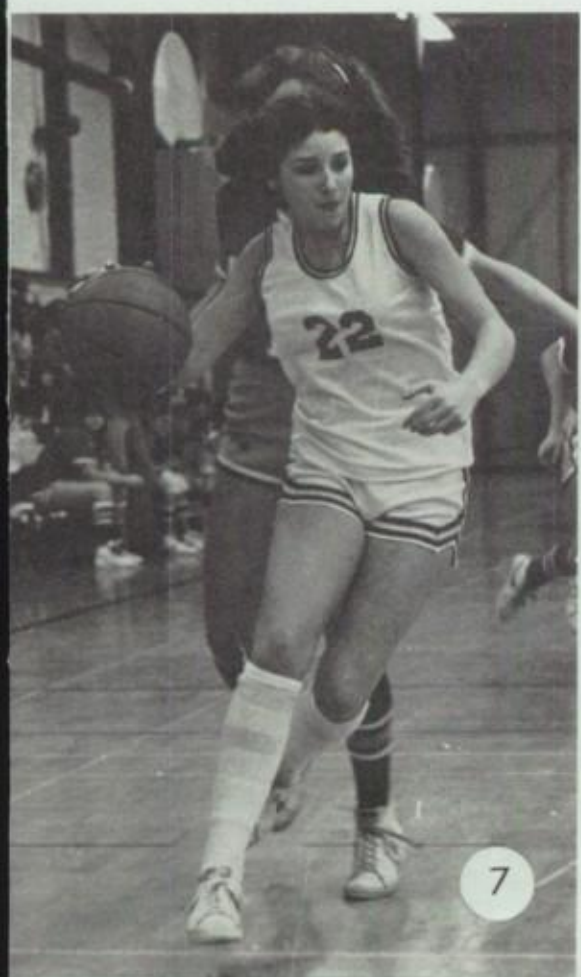

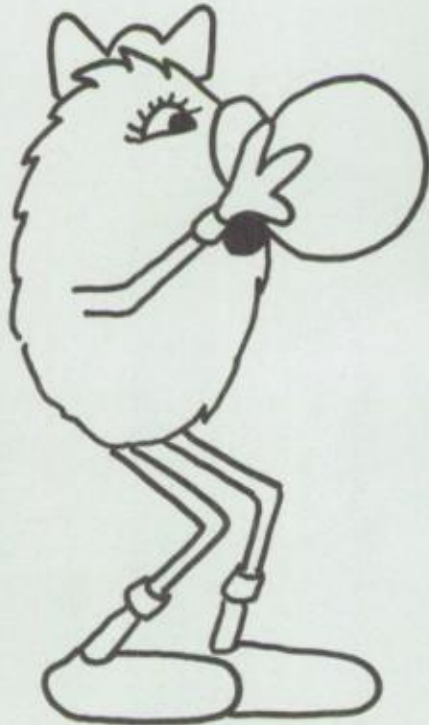

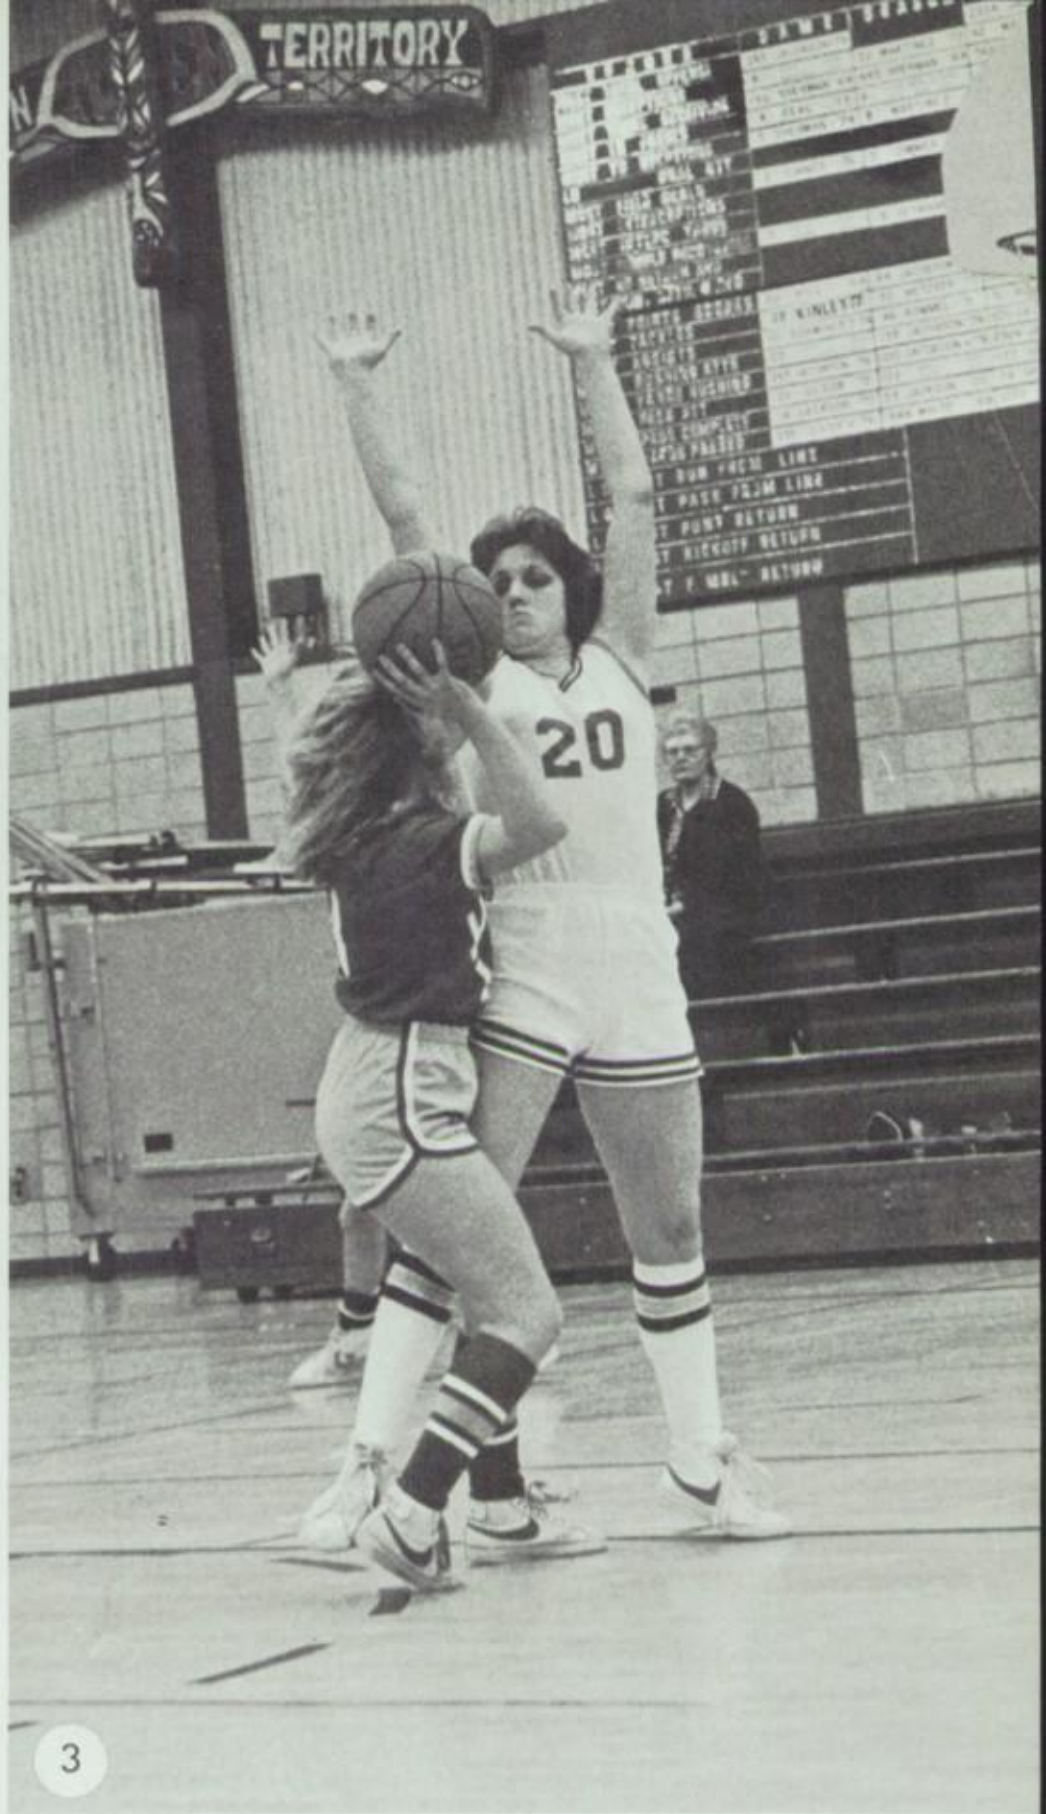

Definite progress was made this season with one of the smallest turn-outs in several years. Hindered by the small teams, as few as 12 for some games, fouls caused problems in many games. A contest with Fife ended with only three Totems on the court when three of six varsity players had fouled out. The team shooting percentage improved from 12% in November to triple that for 38% in February. Coach Edmiston said that remarkable improvement was shown in the defensive press which proved effective in the last four games. Captain Marlene Hall led the pack with a season high 18 points in two games and claimed the highest point average for the season with 9.6 per game with a total of 178 points. Sophomore Teresa Shaff was voted most-improved and senior Rhonda Watson was most inspirational. Despite the winless season, the spirit of all the girls remained high throughout the year.

- 2 Crawling past her opponent, Donna Person tries to pass.
- 3 Marlene Hall (20) stops her opponent in her tracks.

Hoopsters take championship in league playoffs

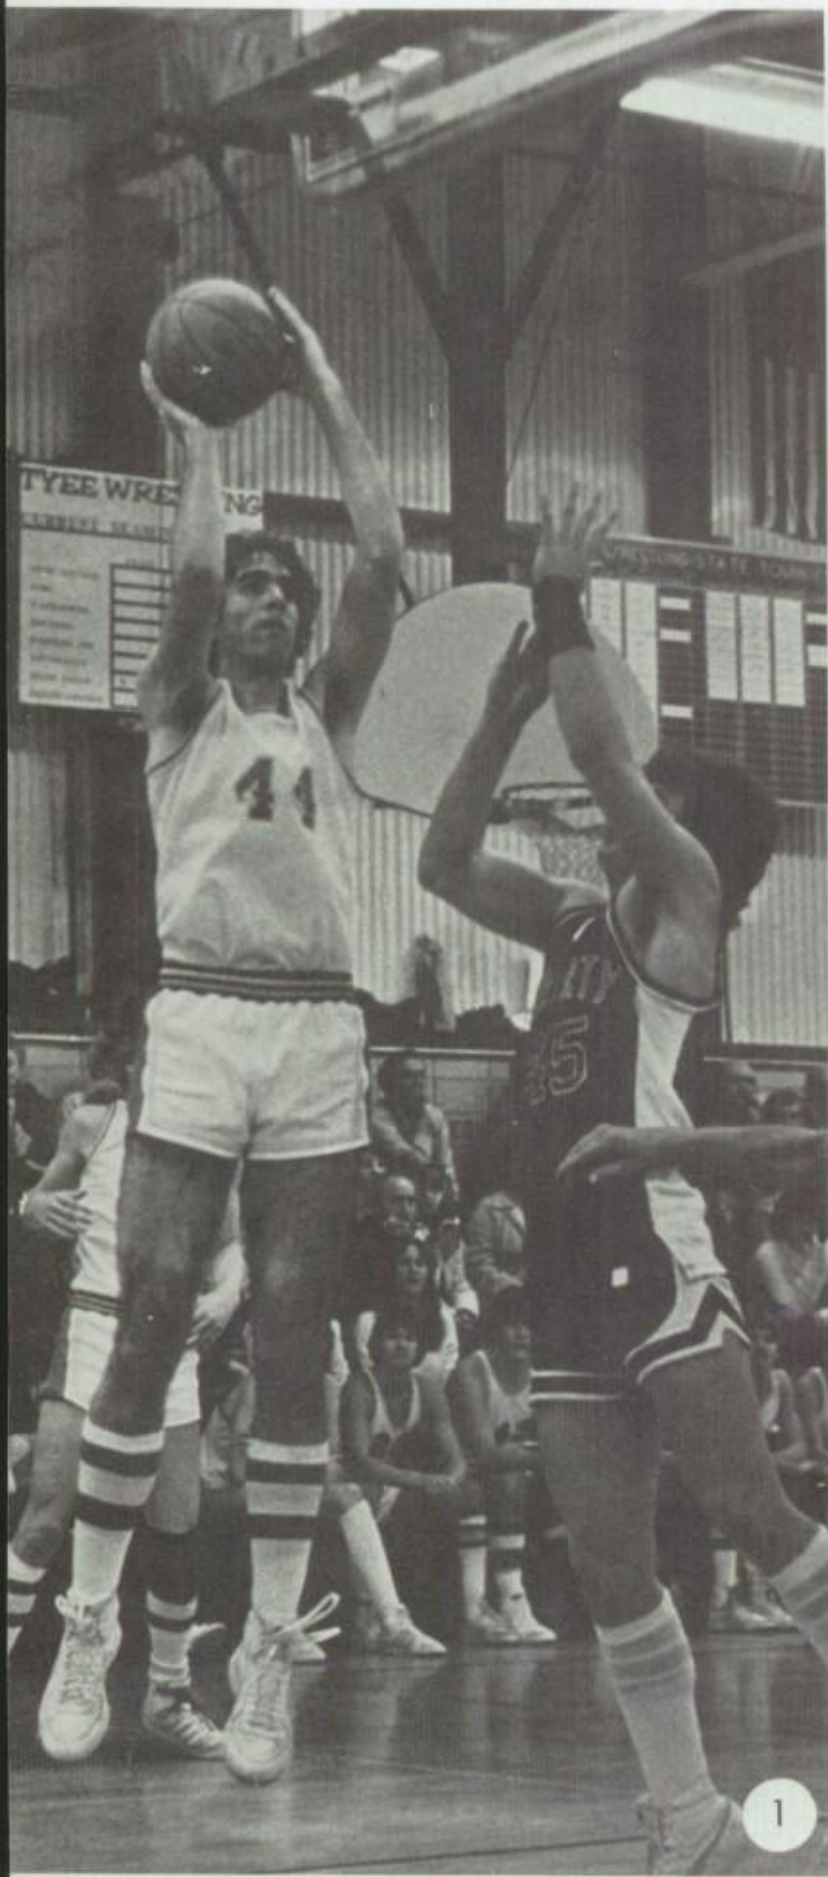

Keeping with tradition, Totem basketball was something to cheer about this season. Outstanding performances individually plus team spirit added up to an excellent season record. Dr. J.J. Davis, captain, led the team to wins and losses in league play to win the Seamount League Championship. They went on to beat West Seattle and Mt. Si in district play-offs and advanced to regionals where they lost to Lake Stevens. Some outstanding performances by the winning team were Mike "Big Red" Redmond's 21.3 pt. average per game, Larry Frostad's 108 rebounds for the season and Brad Klock's all-time record of 13 assists in one game. Mike was named the most valuable player of the Seamount League and made the Seattle Times All-Star Team. J.J. was selected to the All Seamount first team. At the banquet, Larry Frostad was voted most inspirational and most improved, while Steve Redmond will be next year's captain. Coach Rod Ancheta received the honor of coach of the year for the league, the third time in his Totem coaching career.

- 1 Sophomore Steve Redmond closely guards his opponent during league play, hoping to make his 67th assist.
- 2 Sophomore Craig Brooks leaps in an attempt to block the Patriot's shot.
- 3 As Brad Klock releases a short jump shot, Mike Redmond waits to gather up one of his 178 rebounds.
- 4 Senior Rob Ashbaugh puts up two of his 64 points for the season.
- 5 With determination, Larry Frostad lays in two of his 7.5 per game average.
- 6 Shawn Haynes keeps up with the pace offensively . . . and defensively.
- 7 Captain J.J. Davis calms himself with a deep breath before he makes his free throw.

Fourth period, every day, Concert Choir works hard to perfect each note, each word; otherwise a singer might be accused of sounding like a "marshmallow." All this preparation was for performances at Sea-Tac Mall, Highline's Choral Festival and the Winter, Spring and Pop concerts. Sound Design also performed this year even though it had been cut for lack of funds. Because the members were all new, it took a lot of extra work to put together a performance, but they were ready for the Homecoming Assembly, the Spring Concert and the Select Jazz Concert. As tradition dictates, "rookies" sang scat solos before the entire class, to separate the performers from the "marshmallows." All members had to attend concerts or receive an F. Dedication was a column in Mr. Rant's book.

Band marches at Husky halftime with 17 schools

One of the most spirited groups in the school had to be the band. At the giftwrap booth they earned $465 that went towards purchasing $17,000 worth of new band uniforms, they also held various sales and a band marathon to raise the money. They played at every Pep assembly and brought us to our feet with "Pawnee," "Tequila," the National Anthem and the Alma Mater. On Sept. 29, the marching band performed at Husky Stadium during half time with 17 other area bands. At the Viking Jazz Festival the Stage Band won not only the AA trophy but the sweepstakes trophy as well. Director Rants worked hard throughout the year with all three of his bands—Stage, Symphonic and Concert—and they performed at the winter and spring concerts.

Deadlines make you dead tired

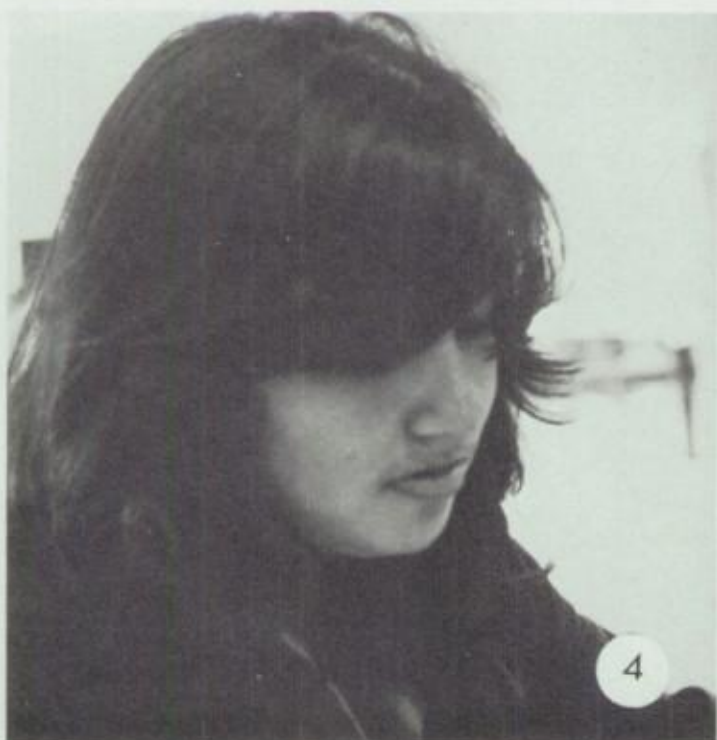

1 Editor-in-chief Mark Rhodes tells Brian Person the exact way it's to be done.

2 Scott Wallace, circulation manager, prepares the Signal to send to other schools.

Massive overtime is an excellent term to describe working on Signal staff. Every three weeks in room 609 Editor-in-chief Mark Rhodes and managing editors Lora Pennington and Gina Gauger fought off the terrible Mr. Deadline. One runs into many problems when putting out a newspaper. For example, the 27 staffers were plagued by something called the "pack rat". Apparently Mark Rhodes, a closet kleptomaniac, especially favors rulers, pencils and other items necessary to put together a paper. There is, however, a certain law and order to this crazy, mixed up world of journalism which is called Murphy's Law of Journalism. The journalists were very active outside the school earning over $600 in various fundraisers. Rummage-selling, rose-wrapping, gift-wrapping and candy selling served to overcome rising production costs. There were two new jobs to help get the 13 issues out on time. Gabe Hall had his own column and Gina Gauger was acting feature editor. Mrs. Marchbank, adviser, commended all the hard work done by her staff.

- 1 Brad Thordarson learns how to file papers during a slack day in journalism.
- 2 Business manager Dave McKinney types a bill for one of the Signal advertisers.
- 3 Gina Gauger and Mrs. Marchbank discuss the different ways the paper can be laid out.
- 4 Frustrated Lora Pennington works hard to correct an article for publication.
- 5 Devin Hermanson and Mike Ishii hand out the monthly paper to Jeff Kalin and Mike Criss during lunch.

Creative classes add spice to daily schedules

- 1 Working in a new computer programming course, senior Salam Noor types instructions into the computer.
- 2 Freshman Donna Bates creates a bowl on the potter's wheel while working in her ceramics class.
- 3 While cutting a piece of wood on the table saw, senior Sonny Schneider enjoys making his class project.
- 4 Mr. McDonald, technical drawing teacher, gives sophomore Eric Perez a few pointers to improve his drawing.
- 5 One step closer to the finish, senior Kevin Flick cuts a piece of wood to add to his wood box.
- 6 Senior David Hedlund lines up his T-square to make a vertical line on his technical drawing.
- 7 Tutoring two Bow Lake kindergartners in exploring childhood, senior Ken Cogger helps them with their activities.

Annual staffers sell key chains as fundraiser

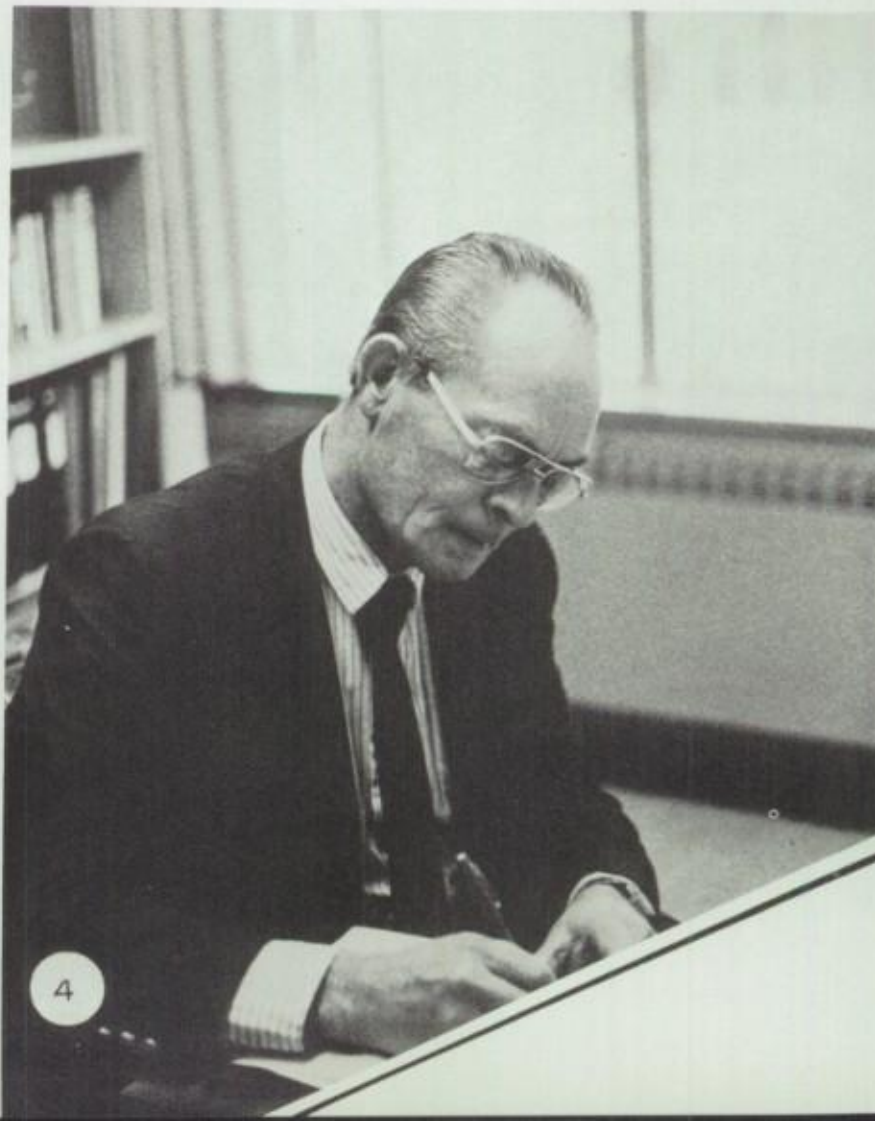

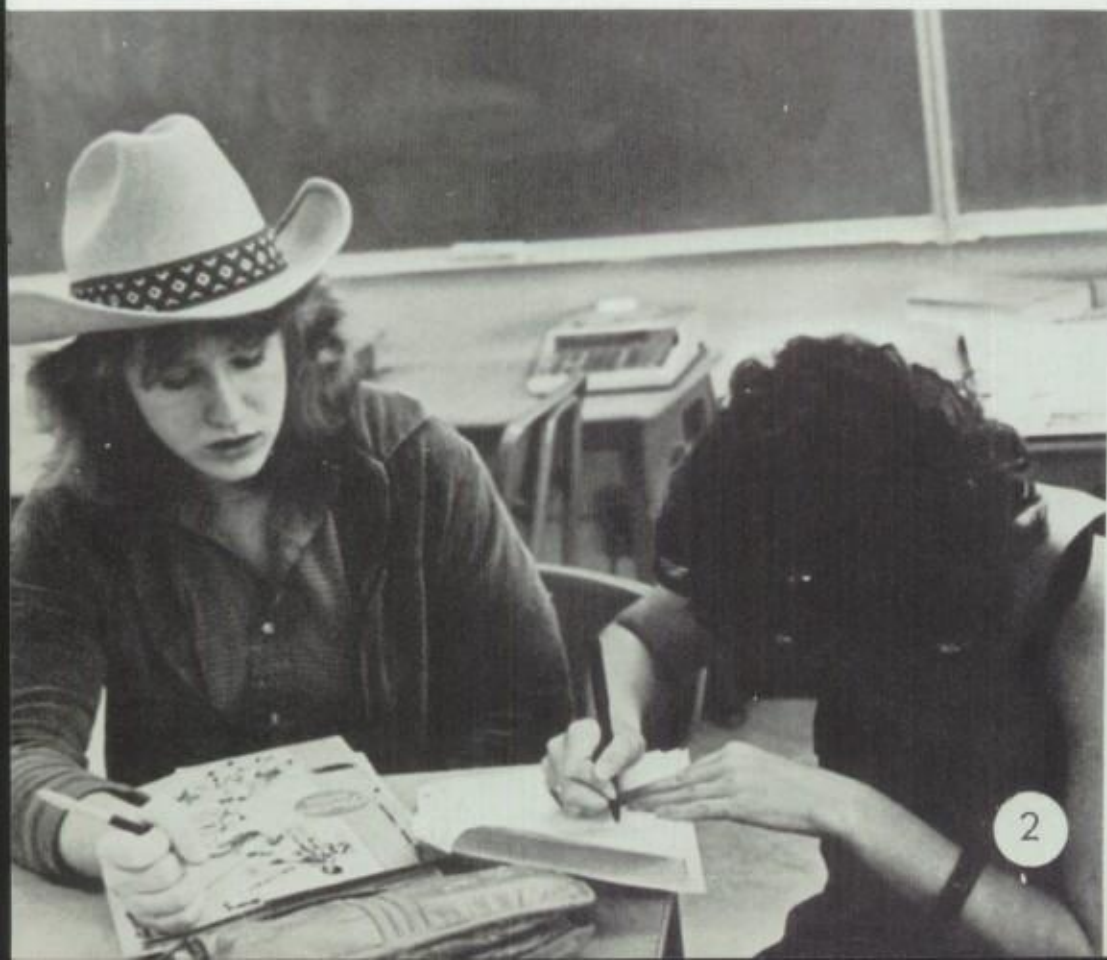

Annual staffers are a breed apart. They are tough people who know the odds of getting through a deadline alive, but they take the risk. They give it all they have and so far the casualties have been few. But there have been casualties. Mental breakdowns are the most frequent, but close behind come blurred vision from too many proof sheets, insomnia because of deadline anxiety, and pasteupitis, resulting in glued fingers. A new darkroom was built in room 604 this year so the staff could print and paste-up their own pictures, making a full-color senior section a reality. Adviser Miss Rudy directed the program from behind an insanely neat desk, and Amy Conrad, Editor-in-chief, kept the program in motion from behind a number of desks, chairs and doors. The seven deadlines created plenty of headaches for copy editor Melanie Stensland, photography editor Bev Brennan, artist Debbie Hanson and page editors. Picture-fitting, cutline-writing and copy-writing raised many questions during this challenging year, but the biggest question of all still remains unanswered: Is there life after deadlines?

- 1 Living through a year-long deadline, the 1982 Tahlkie staff sets off for a vacation. From left: Brenda Brodigan, Amy Conrad, Patty Arnold, Tessy King, Debbie Burrington, Judy Dunn, Brenda Gulsvig, Beth Szyperski, Debbie Hanson, Melanie Stensland, Julie Abbott, Judy Flenniken, Kim Wood, Sheila Johnson, Bev Brennan, Linda White, Shelley Hobbs, Sandy Ashcraft, Jodi Sanford, Jackie Mah, Adviser Miss Rudy.
- 2 Everyone's general helper Jackie Mah writes notes on her hand to remind herself to proof-read copy.
- 3 Ad manager Patricia Arnold fills out an ad contract for "Burger King."
- 4 Copy Coordinator Sandy Ashcraft rushes to write cross country copy to meet another deadline.
- 5 Yearbook page designer Jodi Sanford spends hours finding a way to fit pictures into the faculty spreads.
- 6 Amy Conrad, Linda White and adviser Miss Rudy check cutlines. In back, Gaile DeSanto and Shelly Hobbs.
- 7 Photographer and film developer Judy Flenniken seems to find drying film with a hairdryer relaxing.
- 8 Tessy King, one of seven Tahlkie photographers, rolls a short strip from the bulk film loader.
- 9 Staff witch Brenda Gulsvig reacts to another picture order after a long day in the darkroom.
- 10 Juniors Judy Dunn and Terri Eckhart take a break to talk about the Potlatch spread.

1 Contemplating the next lesson plans, business teacher Mrs. Talbot is flattered by the camera.

2 Giving advice, senior Darla Maurice helps a friend take shorthand.

3 Hardworking, a shop student gets ready to carve wood for his project.

4 Principal Mr. Zevenbergen works to promote the welfare of the students.

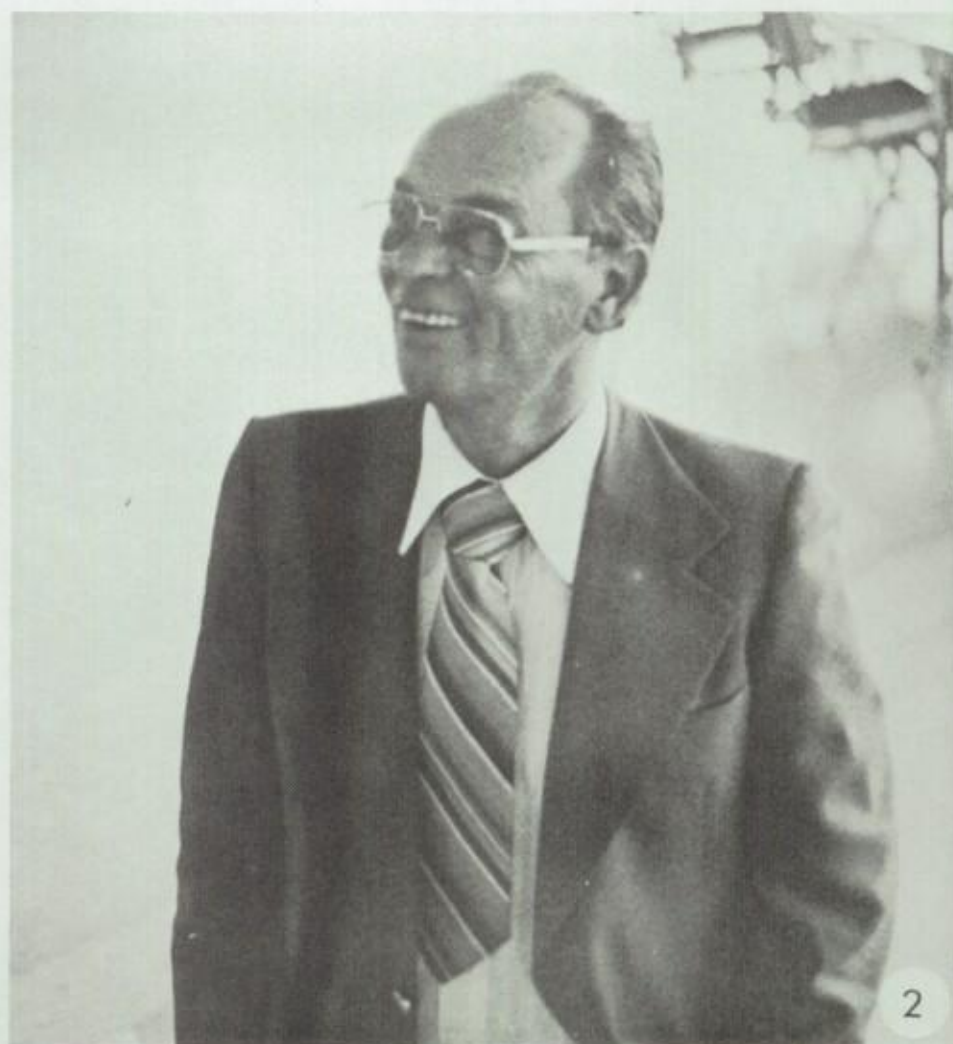

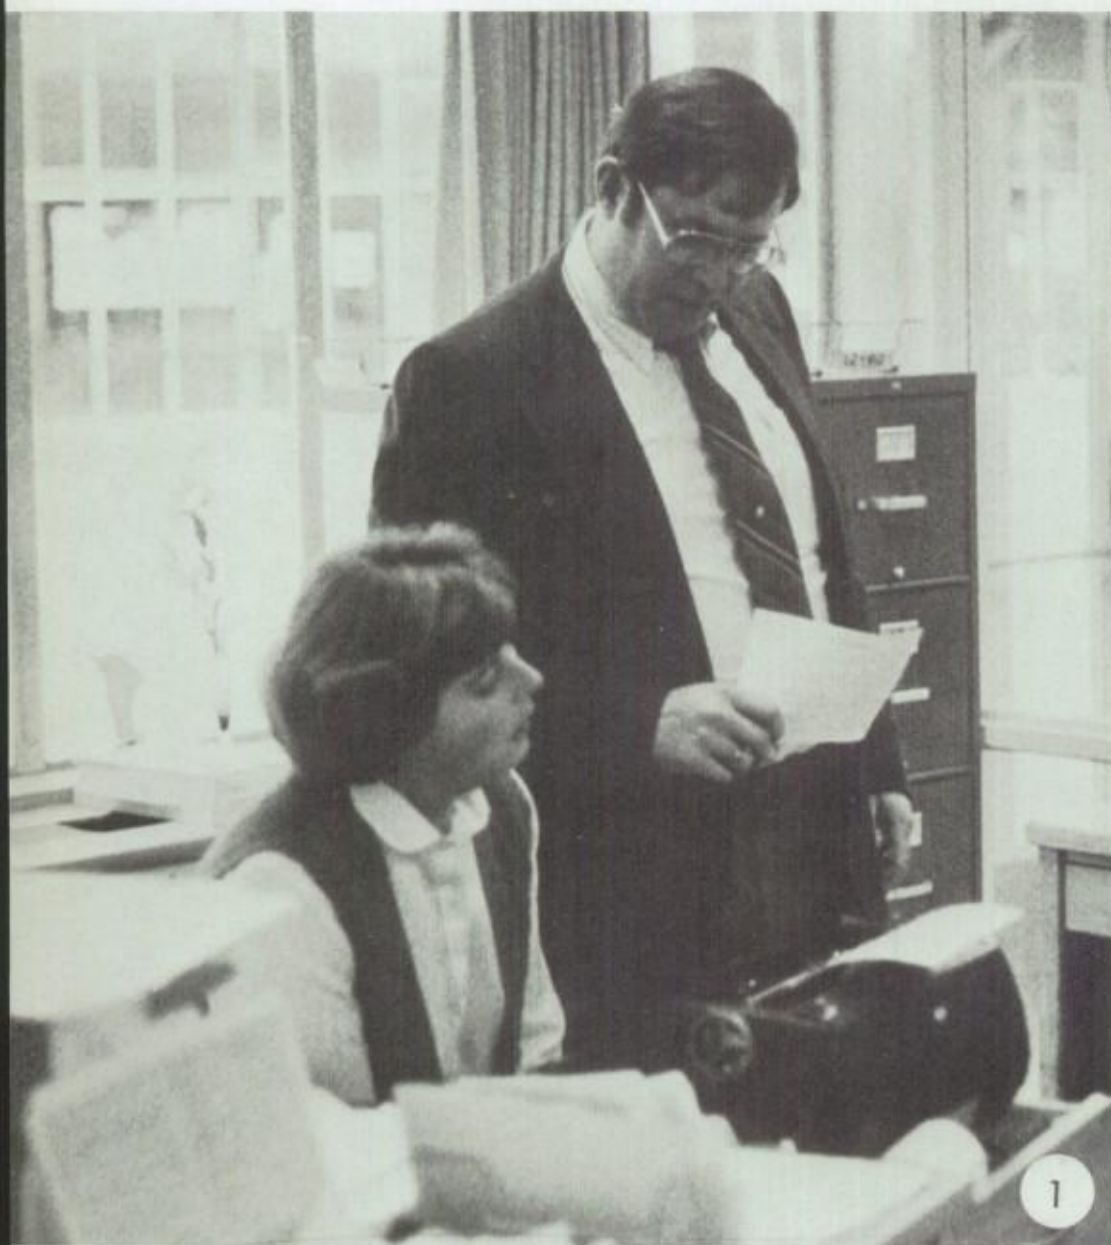

5 Enthusiastically freshmen students take a break but ponder at the thought of 100 words per minute.

6 The Class of '83 try to figure the best way to "unwind" in a Potlatch competition.

7 DECA adviser Mr. Beach explains business procedures in a court room.

'8 Junior DeeDee Borunda checks for typing errors.

Faculty prepares us for future

- 1 Vice principal Dave Alfred gets information from ISP supervisor Nancy O'Malley about one of her students.
- 2 Leonard Zevenbergen, principal, smiles as he sees what Tyee can do.
- 3 Office aide Sheri Nelson assists in the attendance office and is a teacher aide.
- 4 Vice principal Jan Hall receives a call on one of her busier days.

Faculty

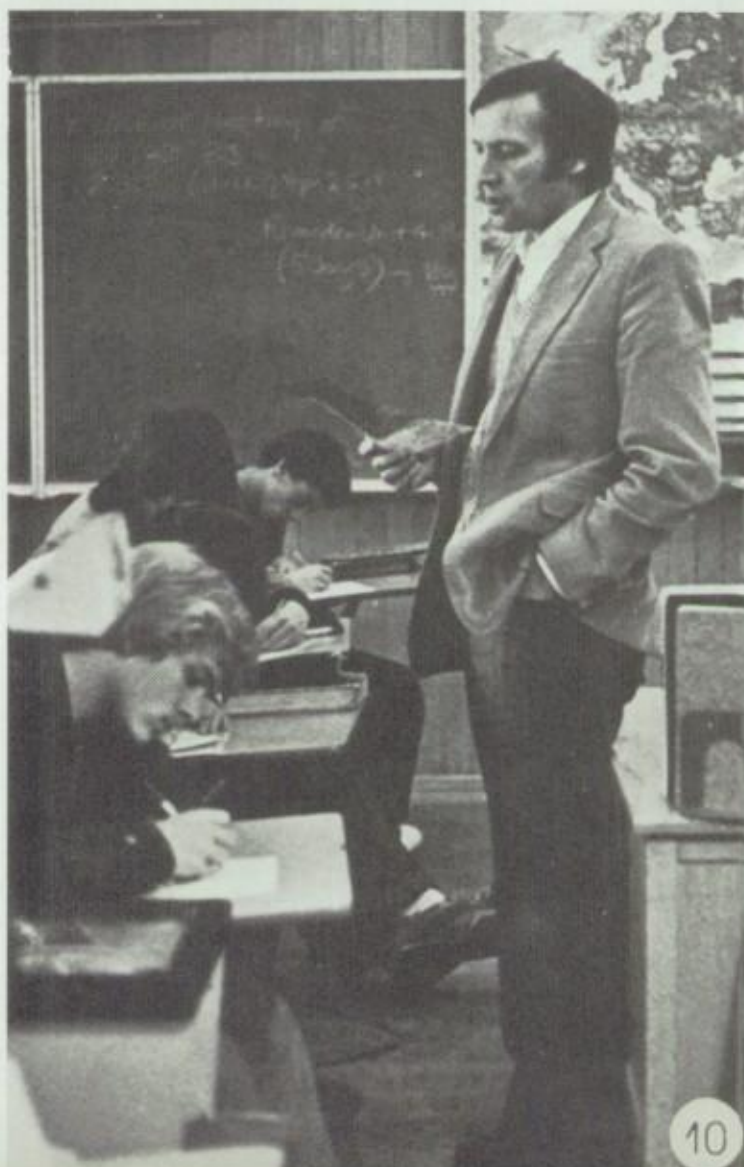

1 Pat Crounse, librarian, explains how to check out a periodical.

2 Secretaries Silvia Gillis, Verda Horsfall, Pearl Klier and M.J. Bender share a quiet moment.

3 Counselors Lindy Aliment and Joyce Williams must deal with class schedules twice a year.

History class helps us to live with tomorrow

- 1 Special Ed supervisors Doris Moe, Marianne Blumhoff, Ed Cunningham, Pat Kirschner, and Nancy O'Malley discuss new ideas for their students.
- 2 Bill Perry, business ed, glances up from his overhead to make sure his class is paying attention.
- 3 Margaret Milne, business ed, shows a student how to fold a business letter.
- 4 Bill Cox is the career exploration counselor and soccer coach. His talks start out "careers" but end up "soccer".
- 5 Cassandra Compton and Regina Carretta help the hearing impaired students lead active days at school.
- 6 Mary Lou Talbot is pleasantly surprised by the "smiley-face" that appears on one of her students typing papers.
- 7 Jeanne Bloedel is an interpreter for the hearing impaired students.
- 8 Arts and crafts teacher Ann Brown gives many students assistance with complicated projects.
- 9 History teacher Bob Trask proof-reads a students report.
- 10 Tennis coach Dave Wackerbarth devotes much of his time to his U.S. history and 20th century Europe classes.
- 11 Bill Scholen listens patiently as his history student struggles with an answer.
- 12 Walt Edmiston, U.S. history and world economics, also oversees lunchroom activities.
- 13 Dick Beach warns his DECA class about the tough competition in the business world.

Teachers push us to our best

- 1 Spanish teacher and Pep Club adviser Angela Davila helps promote spirit as she promotes a foreign language.
- 2 Music director Wally Rants shows his trumpeters how it's really done.
- 3 Randy Schepper is in charge of physical education in the developmentally disabled persons program.
- 4 Fred Houck, biology and human physiology, demonstrates the route the blood takes through the body of cats.
- 5 Home economics teacher Mary Ann Rankin demonstrates how to package food to her family living class.
- 6 History teacher Jerry Hammack is also the only health teacher at Tvee.

1 Charlene LaFleur helps students that are in the corrective reading program.

2 School nurse Ina Henke keeps the medical records of all Tyee students up to date.

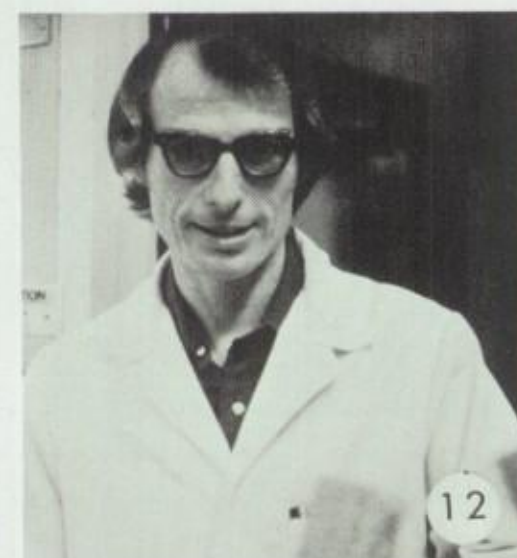

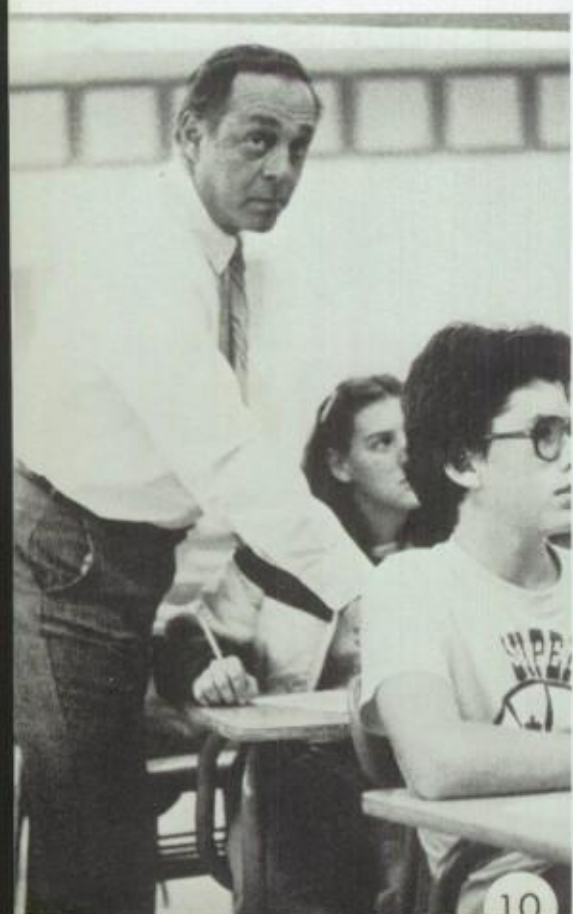

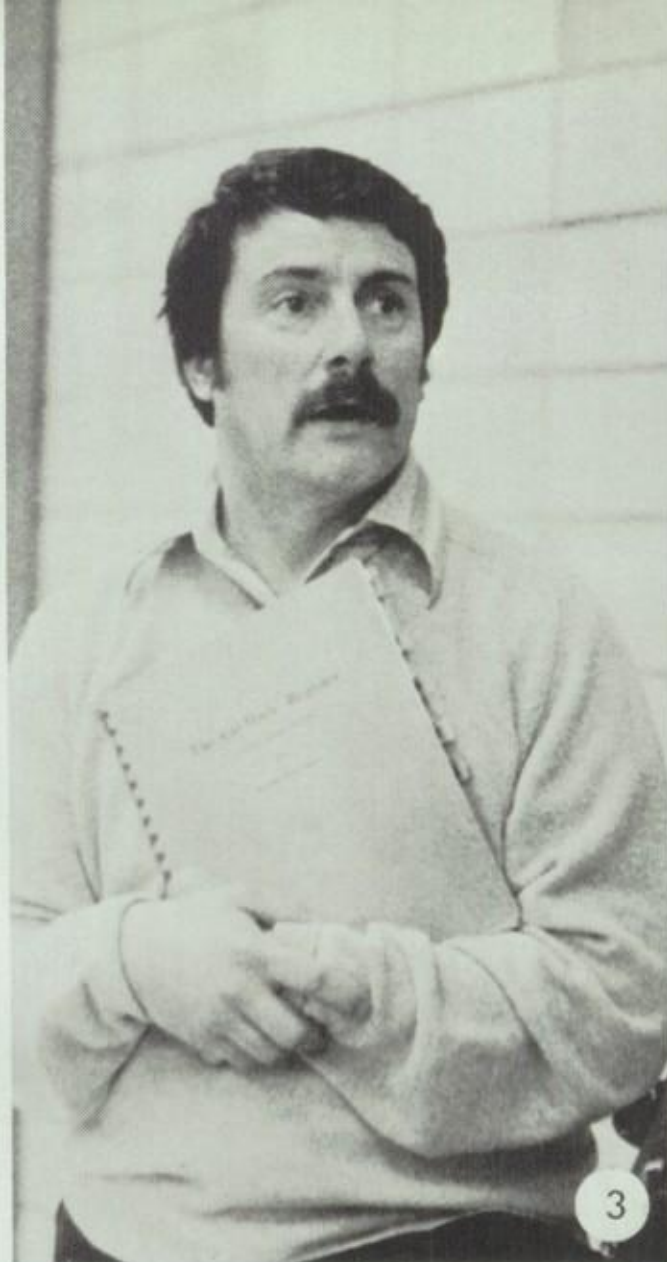

3 The blackboard in science teacher Warren Levenhagen's class has had some interesting theorems on it.

4 Bob Guenther, science, has the challenge of explaining the difference between a fruit and a vegetable.

5 Ruth Strange, German teacher, helps one of her advanced students with a report.

6 Bev Smiglewski is in charge of the corrective reading program located at Chinook Junior High.

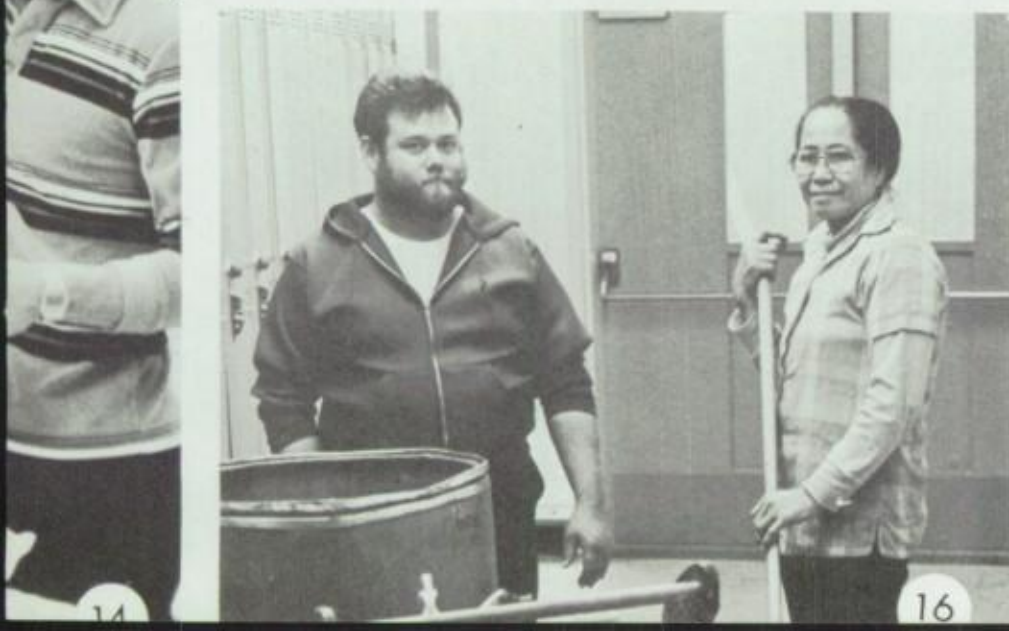

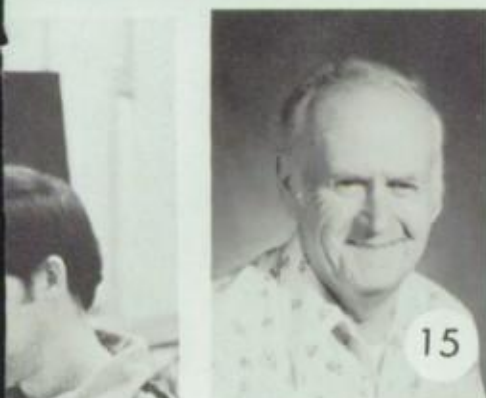

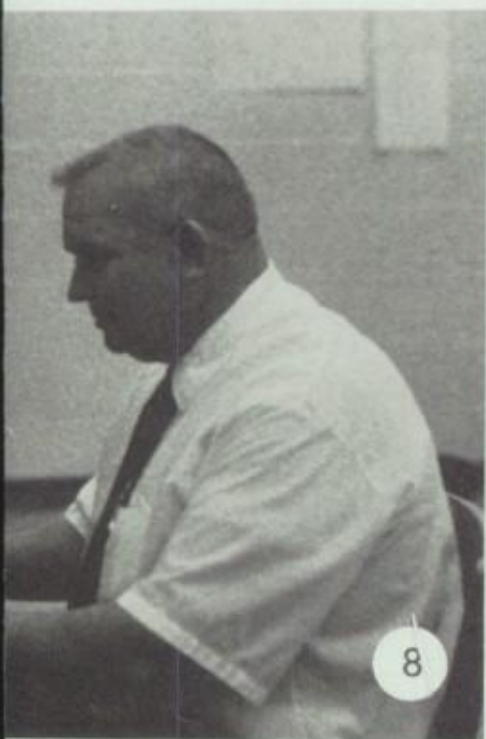

7 Debbie Jacobus, Mary Casey-Goldstein, Lucille Adolphson, Dottie Cook and Gerri Mettlin head the DDP program.

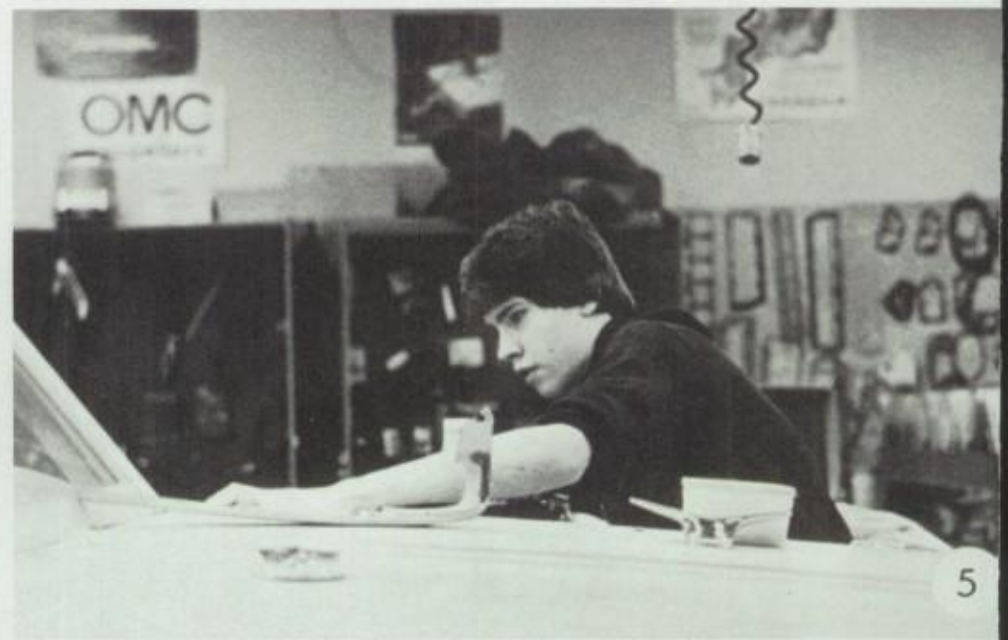

Area cutbacks increase class sizes this year

- 1 Ann Marchbank, English teacher and Signal adviser, tells her freshman literature class about a figure of speech.
- 2 Kaija Lietuvietis, PE teacher, keeps watch on the activities in her classes.
- 3 Physical education instructor Steve Doutrich tries to explain the rules of a game to some of his students.
- 4 Cooks Mabel Jacobson, Phyllis Dettler, Janet Akre, Betty Thomas and Irene Parsons prove their lunches are edible.
- 5 Dorothy Jacobson, English, enjoys a student's interpretation of a short story.
- 6 English teacher Nancy Rudy spends most of her spare time working with the Tahlkie staff.
- 7 Bob Bartholick, mathematics, relaxes between two very hectic classes.
- 8 Mathematics and computer programming instructor Larry Forthun gets to play with the computers sometimes, too.
- 9 Head custodian Cliff Johnson puts together, takes apart, fixes and cleans things around school.
- 10 English teacher Sterling Smith points out to a sophomore that "'not' is an adverb no matter what seniors try to tell you!"
- 11 Eulene Henderson, English and drama, discusses the proper way to hold a book when reading to an audience.
- 12 Bruce McDonald, industrial arts, believes that safety is the most important part of a project.
- 13 Industrial arts teacher Russ Carlsen believes teachers can have as much fun with a project as students do.
- 14 Rod Ancheta, mathematics and boys basketball coach, takes a break from writing problems on the overhead.
- 15 Art Erickson was a custodian at Tyee for two years and retired in November.
- 16 Custodians John Douvier and Bea Soriano make sure the buildings are ready for the next days use.

OSC provides preparation for varied careers

On the job training (or close to it) is what OSC, the Occupational Skills Center provides. Tyee participates in the 13 programs offered at OSC with Evergreen, Mt. Rainier, Highline and the Federal Way and South Central Districts. The length of the programs ranges from one semester to two years for 2 ½ hours each day to earn them credits a semester. The program's objectives are to develop basic work skills, train for entry-level employment or prepare for the next level of education in a particular occupation. Some classes take place at the South Seattle Community College and at the Des Moines Fire Station. Students can get job placement or continue for more training assistance. Students learn to build and create in plastics, visual communications, commercial foods, carpentry, computer technology and marine mechanics, or learn to serve in medical and dental assistance, fire service and cashier checking.

Leslie Mercer and Cheryl Horst practice to improve their skills on the register during their cashier and checking class.

- 2 Senior Joe Arguello concentrates on putting the finishing touches on the patched hole in marine mechanics class.
- 3 Margie Wills sterilizes a pair of scissors that later will be used in an experiment for medical assistant class.
- 4 While putting in addition on a house, John Richardson pauses a moment to look at the camera during carpentry.
- 5 Tim Davidson spent weeks sanding an old boat and found it can become very involved and time consuming in marine mechanics.

Chad Torbergson and Ron Shaff separate parts of an old boat motor that will later be used in repairing other motors.

- 7 Learning to repair fiberglass boats is one of the few things Scotty Sacco and Mark Taylor attempted in production plastics class.
- 8 Joe Arguello and Mitch McKay listen to John Beutler as he explains why he chose to paint the interior blue.

DECA sales raise funds, club thrives

A Distributive Education Club of America was reinstated this year with the addition of a beginning class for sophomores and juniors first period. The second period class, all seniors, coordinated the main functions of the nationally-organized group. Part of the merchandising class' emphasis is on holding a job to receive work credits. To prepare for the year, members went to camp Cispus Leadership Conference in late October, where they learned about their offices and held area elections. Their training helped them to put on a breakfast for Special Olympics, run the concession stand at basketball games and hold the spring fashion show. They also kept the readerboard up to date and sold caps, gowns and school rings.

- 1 First period DECA officers, from left: Bonnie VanDelft, secretary; Lisa Laurin; historian; Tina Humphrey, governor; Pat Flynn, treasurer; Laura Greninger, president; Lisa Zoscak, vice president.
- 2 Sophomore Karri Anderson pauses from her meal during the DECA Installation breakfast at OSC, December 8.
- 3 Mary Signett tries to sell Medwyn Blazer and Jeff Pepper a DECA football jersey for $14.50.
- 4 DECA and Pep Club sponsored a pumpkin carving contest for the student body. The winners were most original, Cheryl Horst; biggest, Scott Gossage; smallest, Ms. Hall; and ugliest, Zachary Norlund.
- 5 Second period DECA officers from left: Bruce Almberg, parliamentarian; Linda White, secretary; Mary Signett, president; Jamie Trisler, vice president; Julie Abbott, historian.

1 Striving to increase her typing speed, Tiffany Helton takes one of the many time trials given during the year.

2 Annette Baldrige punches equations into an electric calculator, hoping her answers will match those in the book.

3 Learning the value of money, Rick Zeegenfuss diligently sorts pennies.

4 Laurel Shannon practices shorthand for one of the many hours that it takes to become a good stenographer.

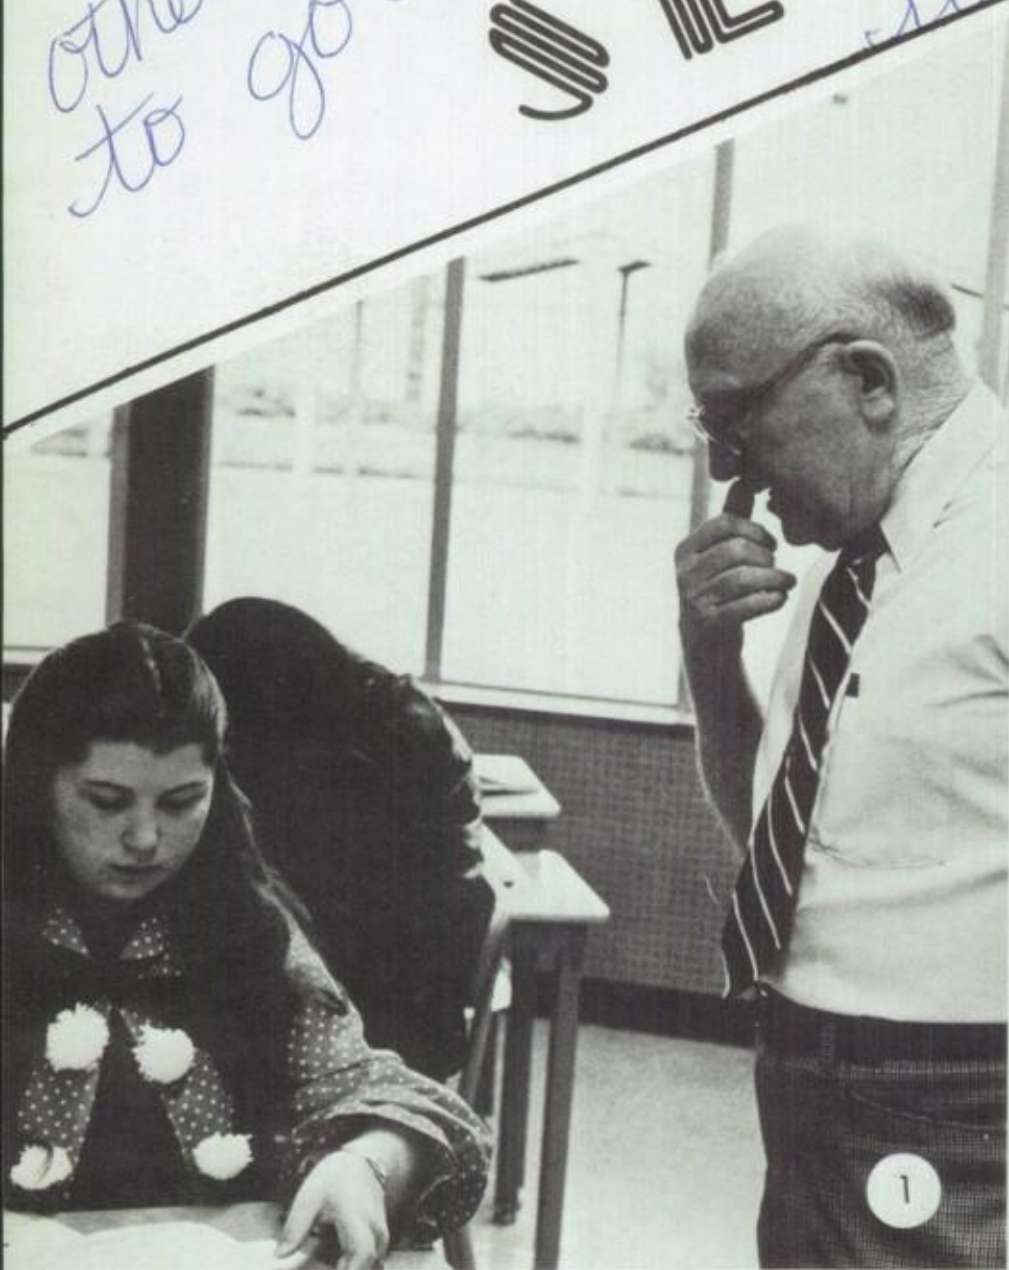

5 Honing her adding machine skills, Delana Akers prepares for life after school.

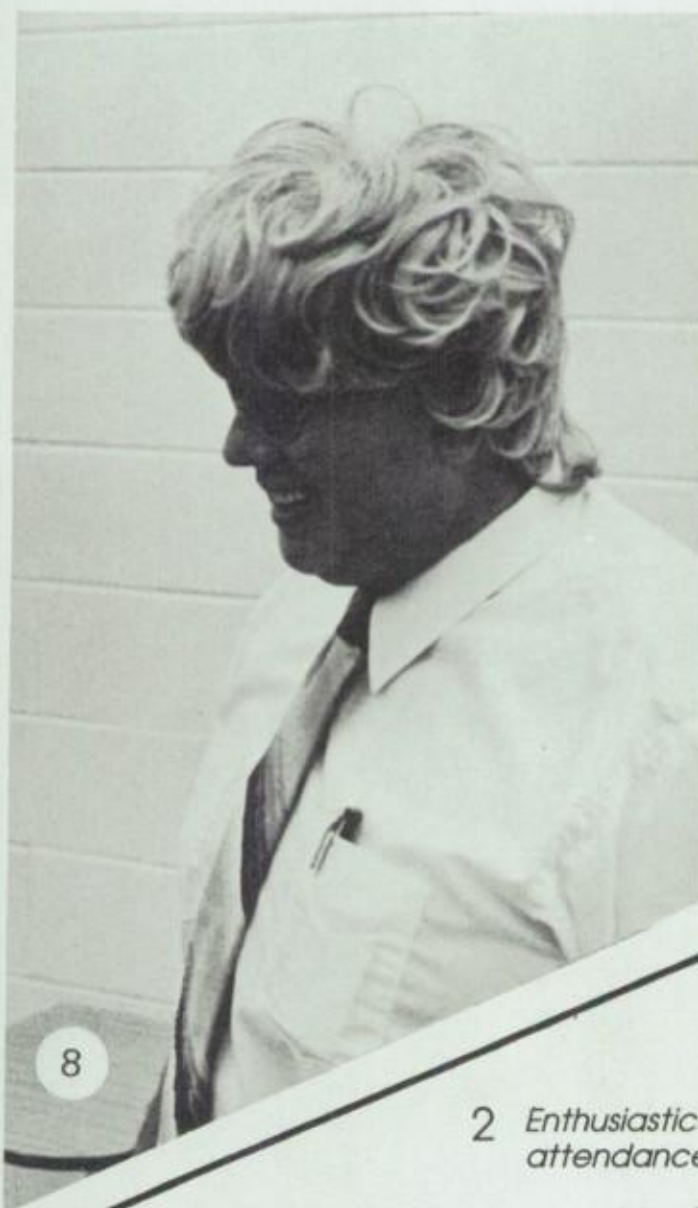

6 Clive McCoy develops hand to eye coordination as part of his DDP training.

SMILE with a smile

1 Junior Brenda Lucas asks Ushers Club adviser Mr. Perry how she can help with the games.

2 Enthusiastically, Mrs. Bender asks about the attendance bulletin.

3 Full of spirit, secretary Mrs. Gillis keeps Tyee's account in order.

4 Office assistant, Laurie Haynes delivers attendance notices to students in the lunchroom.

5 Diligently, Brenda Jamison works on an accounting assignment.

6 Library aide Lori Volk makes sure books are in the correct spot.

7 Moved by Kathy Lawrence's editorial, senior Gina Gauger reads the article a second time.

8 Mr. Forthun, finally figured how to solve the unknown variable.

9 Intensely, Lori Gibbon checks bulletins to be read over Strive for Pride.

AST profits from giftwrapping

- 1 AST sponsors the canned food to ensure a Merry Christmas for needy families of the community.
- 2 Miss Hall attends to some AST paperwork, just part of her job as AST administrative adviser.
- 3 Responding to their president, the Exec. Council members Jeff Burns, George Minegishi, Jan Jensen and Wes Randall.
- 4 Tyee received this trophy for having 100% participation in the voters registration contest.

The Associated Student of Tyee organized the gift wrap booth, Pottlatch, the Spring Fling, Leadership Camp and voter registration. AST president Christy Okazaki attended meetings weekly to be sure that Tyee's voice was heard throughout the district. She was aided in our representation by Interhigh Rep. Sandy Ashcraft who attended monthly meetings with other schools in the district to discuss common problems such as school spirit and participation. Jeff Allen, vice president, was busy coordinating meetings for homeroom reps. As well as helping in just about every aspect of student government. Treasurer Dave McKinney kept track of school funds including profits from the gift-wrap booth which totaled more than $7,000. During voter registration, AST officers worked closely with adviser Jan Hall to make sure every eligible 18-year-old registered to vote, a feat rewarded with a trophy from the students of Mt. Rainier. AST also chose regular Tyee Faculty of the Month and made possible the Magic Charlie Show.

- 1 The AST sponsored Air Force Jazz Ensemble from McCord Air Force Base perform for an appreciative Totem audience.
- 2 AST officers: president Christy Okazaki, vice president Jeff Allen, treasurer Dave McKinney, Interhigh representative Sandy Ashcraft.

- 4 The lead singer of the McCord Air Force Band "jazzed" up the Totems with numbers like "Ease on Down the Road."

Camp life is exciting for a counselor too

The excitement generated by the 6th graders was contagious and high school students found themselves caught up in the fast pace of camp life. Campers and counselors worked together on a variety of activities including "beat the crunch" posters and camper's stew. The Tyee students worked to build the children's confidence in themselves and helped them follow through on projects by working as cabin groups. They competed for the Smokey Award for the cleanest cabin and identified the leaves on the "what'zit" board. They hiked to Bear Tree and the Lookout Tower and took nature walks to learn about soil, trees and wildlife. The positive atmosphere helped everyone burn Old Man Grouch by symbolically burning slips of paper with bad attitudes written on them. Thursday, the whole camp participated in relay races and they planted fish in the south fork of the Snoqualmie River. That night, after the kids had gone home, the counselors all went to town for pizza and said good-bye to the good friends they had made during the week.

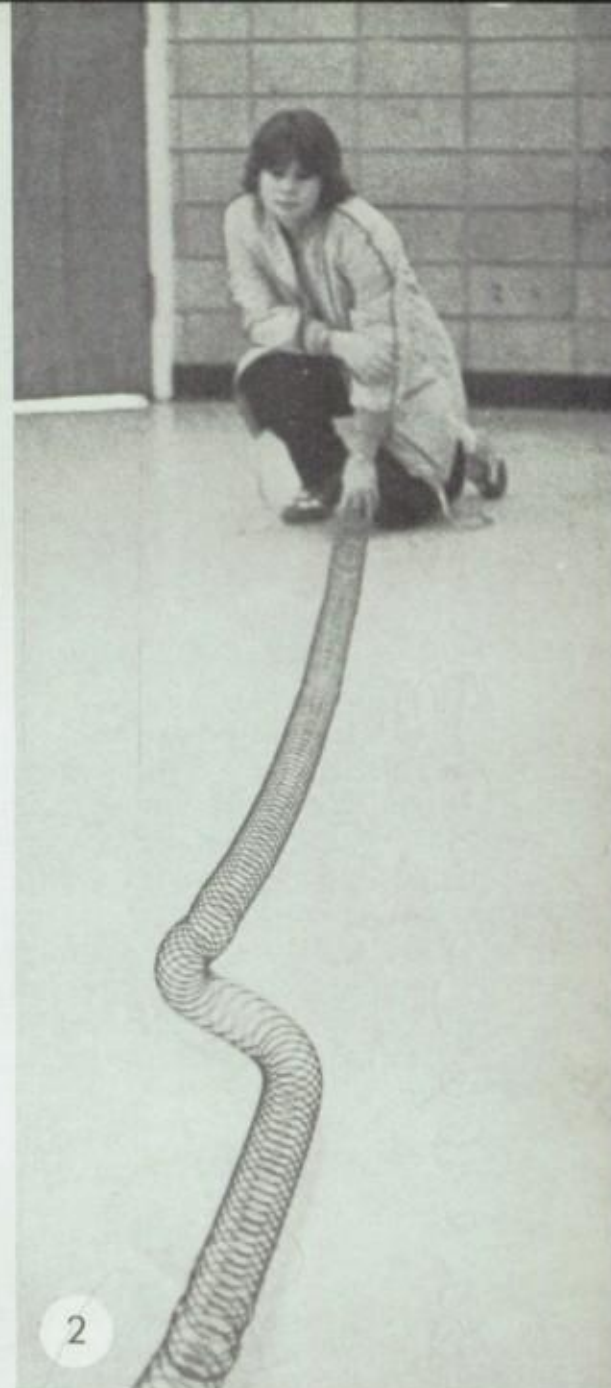

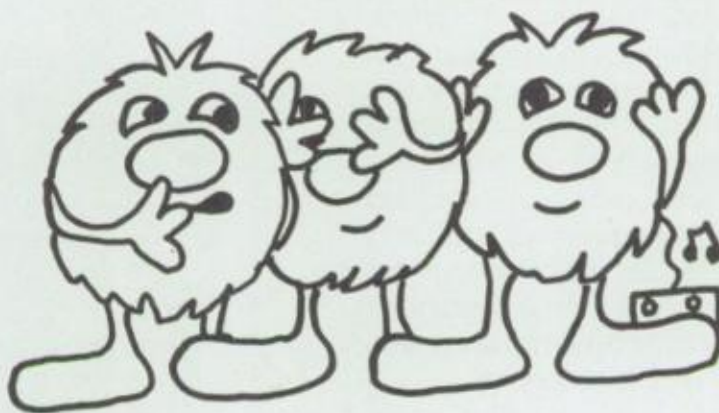

- 1 Pat Flynn stops for a drink of spring water during a hike to the Look Out tower.
- 2 This tame deer is one of the friendly animals that live at camp.
- 3 Lisa Anderson and Kay Hudson sample their camper's stew during the cookout.
- 4 Marlene Hall listens with sixth graders as their teacher explains the camp's trail rules.
- 5 Counselors: front, from left: Cathy Cooper, Kay Hudson, Marlene Hall, Linda Lopp, Sheri Wyatt; middle: Melanie Stensland, Bev Brennan, Susan Kinley, Patricia Arnold, Debbie Burrington, Kathy Torr, Stacy Hein; back: Brenda Lucas, Nancy Gossage, Cherie Paro, Linda White, Leland Scifers, Mary Signett, Chris Schwartz, Lenny Sturba, Brian Rasmussen.

'Easy' classes, announcements are hard work

Being an office or library aide is not a slack job; on the contrary, a lot of hard work is involved. Office aides answer the phone and deliver all messages, distribute mail and run dittoes. All office and counselor assistants are required to attend one meeting a month for assignments from Mrs. Talbot and her student-teacher Miss Warter. Library aides shelve and check books, prepare new magazines for shelving and aid students in finding materials. Announcers for Strive for Pride informed students of games, happenings and statistics in the morning and afternoon as well as leading us in the flag salute each morning.

- 1 Brenda Jamison (left) and Lori Gibbon lead the school in the Pledge of Allegiance every morning at 7:45.
- 2 One of Lori Volk's duties as a library aide is keeping the cabinets clean.
- 3 Cheryl Larson prepares a note to be delivered to a student.
- 4 After school in the library, junior Nimpa Gueco stamps the due date on a book.
- 5 Lori Ward proves that contrary to popular belief, library aides do take final exams.
- 6 Laurie Adsley stacks the scan sheets that are used to record attendance every day.
- 7 Office aide Serena Raab takes a message during sixth period.
- 8 Tony Disney fills out an admission slip for a student.
- 9 Office aide Cindy Hight transfers information to a ditto so copies can be made.
- 10 Library aides: front, from left: Shannon Jones, Lora Pennington, adviser Mrs. Crouse, Michelle Scarborough, Patricia Arnold; back: Tom Snider, Scott Gossage, Jeff Kalin, Steve Manwill, Gabe Hall, Kallie Phillips, David Lusk, Sue Gage, Sheri Zeh, Lori Ward.

TASC has spirit to get the job done

The Tyee Activities and Service Club is responsible for more activities than any other club in the school, including two of the most successful events of the year—both girl-ask-guy dances, Harvest and Tolo. They also honor our parents with a Daddy-Daughter Desert Dance and a Mothers' Tea. The Faculty Tea, Senior Reception and Homecoming reception carry the TASC touch as well. Shirley Kaatman and Sally Min led the 15 members with the help of secretary-treasurer Bev Brennan and historian Kirk Lemoine and advisers Ms. Jacobson and Ms. Kirschner. TASC members vote on the students of the month and honor them by giving them a corsage or boutonniere.

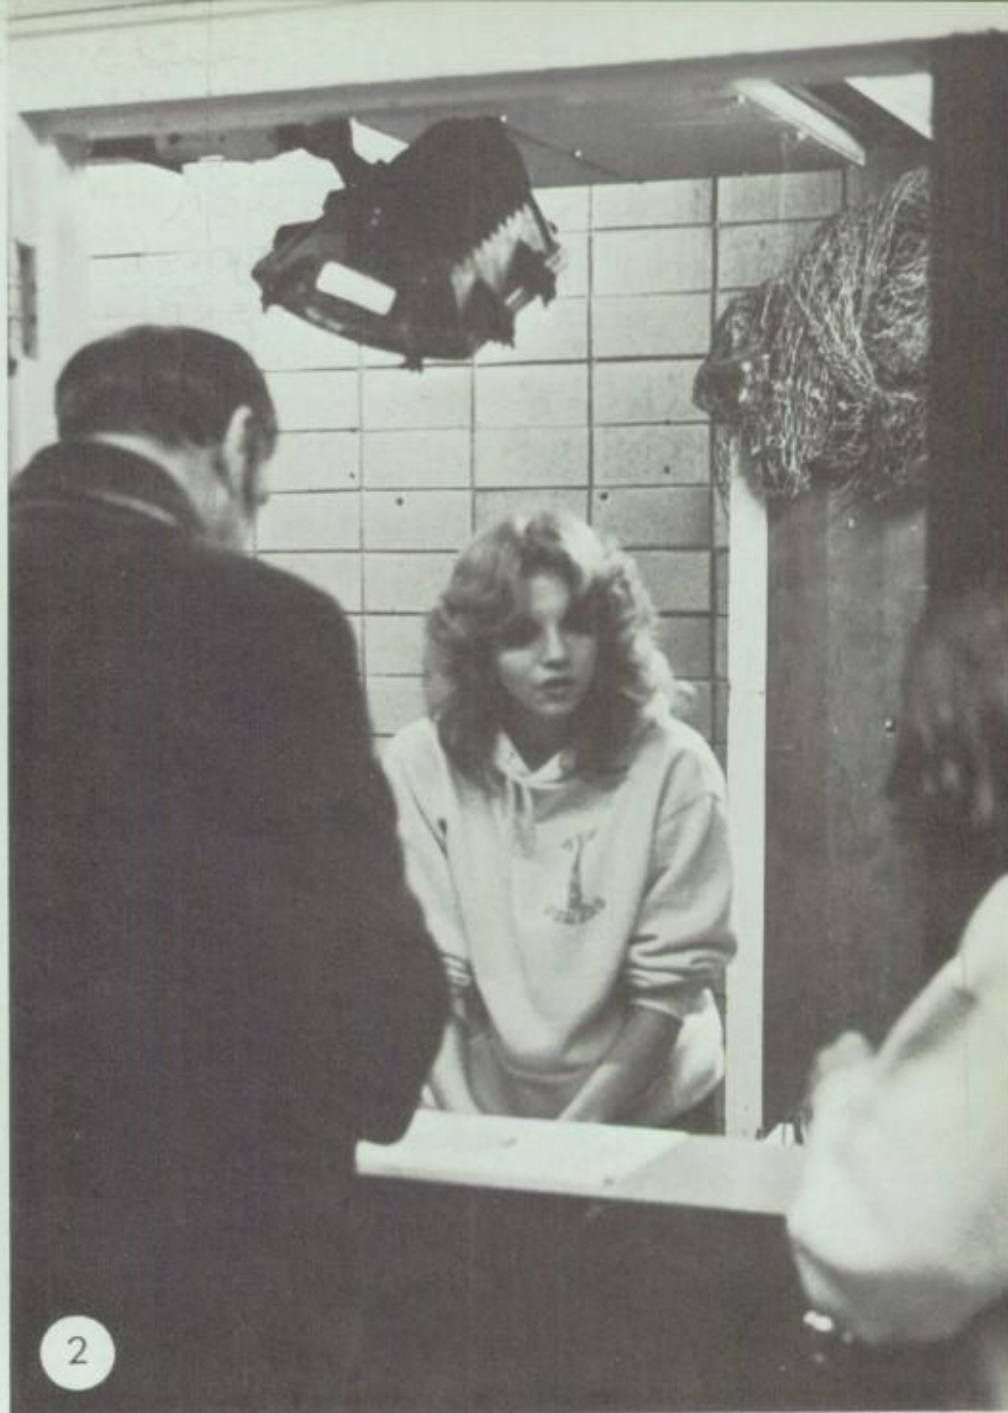

- 1 At a TASC meeting, Melanie Stensland wants to ask a question about Tolo decorations.
- 2 Secretary Bev Brennan takes notes at a meeting as cabinet members Jill Fratello and Mia Hankins listen.
- 3 At the blackboard, Jill Fratello writes nominations for the Tolo theme song.
- 4 President Shirley Kaatman, vice president Sally Min, secretary-treasurer Bev Brennan, historian Kirk Lemoine.
- 5 Sandy Lawson and Christy Okazaki laugh over a Tolo theme song suggestion as Mike Ishii sings his praises.

Club keeps ticket sales well in hand "Attention! There will be an Ushers Club meeting today after school in room 311." That is all most of us know about Ushers Club, but members play an important role in most of the events held at Tyee. This year's Ushers Club consisted of nine organized, hardworking, spirited girls who took tickets at every school event except dances. The girls were rewarded for their work by earning a merit, and if they didn't do their job, they were penalized two merits. Merits went toward awards at the end of the year and also served as an inspiration. The group bought sweatshirts and held a jellybean guessing contest in February. Mr. Perry and Mrs. Talbot scheduled the girls for all events which was especially difficult in the winter with a game or match nearly every night.

- 1 From top: president Paula Hineman; vice president Barbara Izatt and secretary-treasurer Grace Jackman.

Football rushes to 2 victories

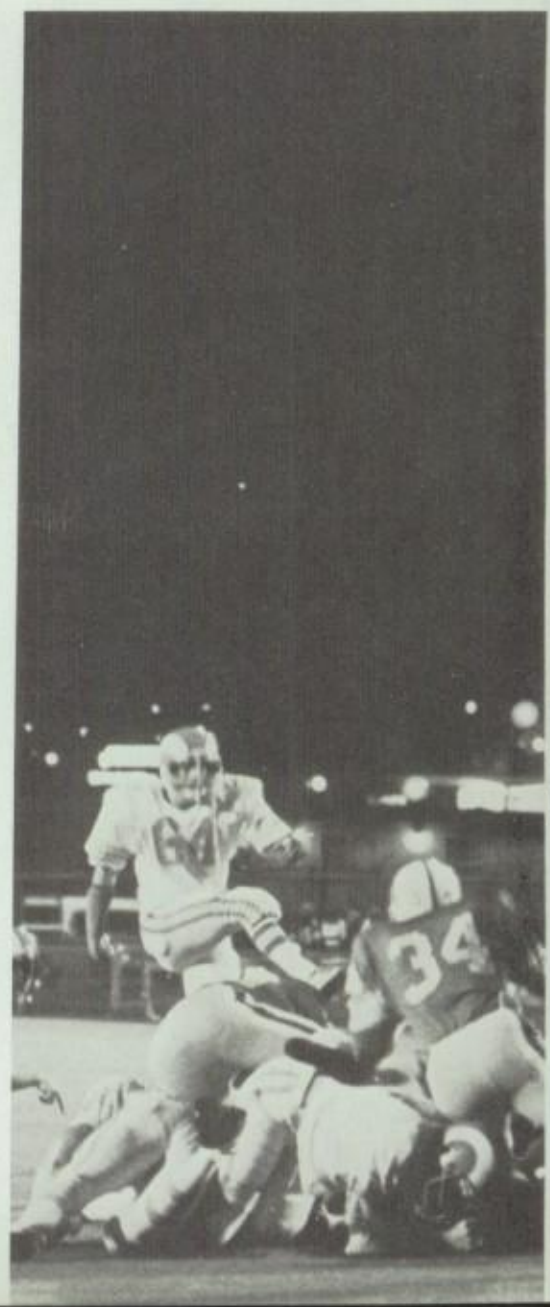

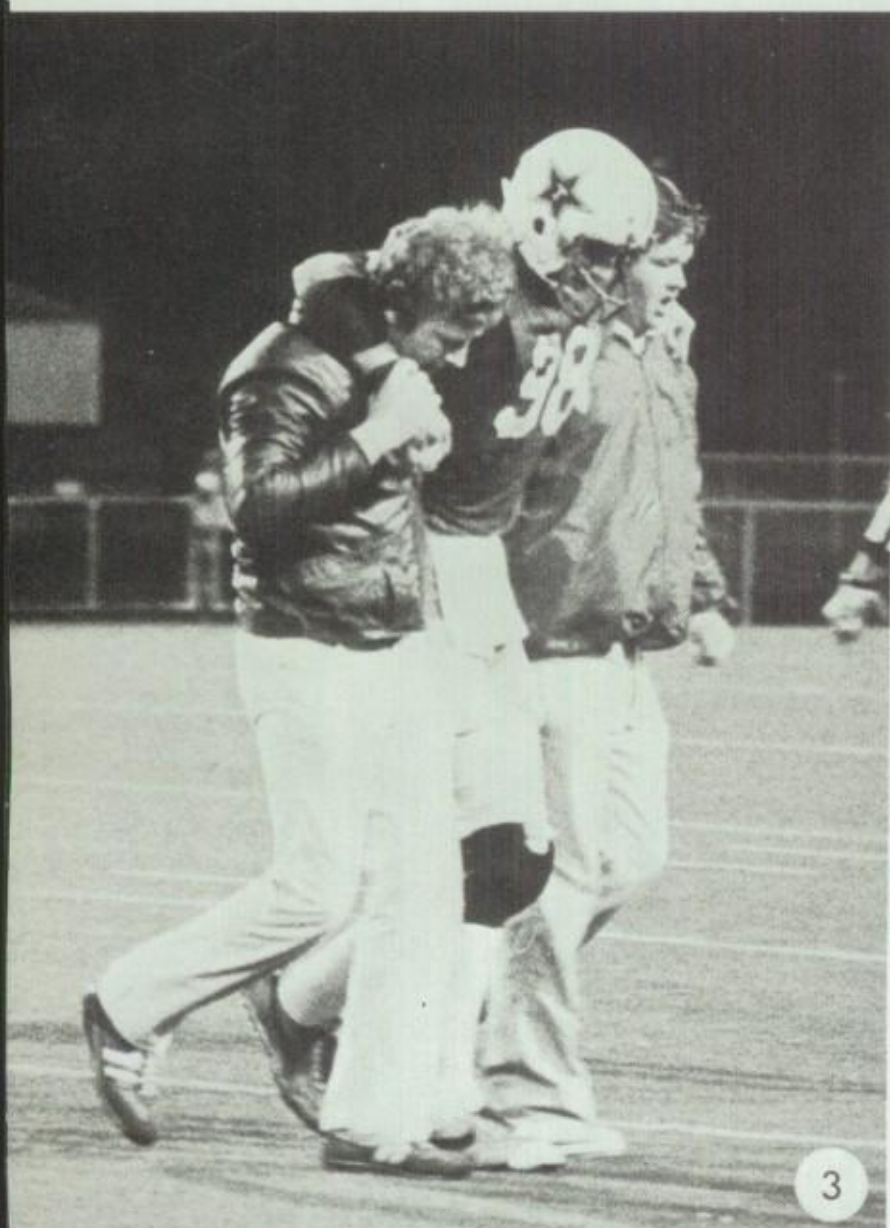

- 1 Quarterback Pat Padero (14) steps back to complete one of his 25 passes.
- 2 Coach Levenhagen talks to the guys upstairs about the game while assistant Stenson yells instructions to the player.
- 3 Center Howard Foote waits to be put into a line-up.
- 4 Senior end David Warf (10) successfully blocks a Mt. Rainier extra point, one try of only two this year.
- 5 Tim Dunham (79), Brian Rassmussen (26), Kurt Wurdeman (17) all get ready for the new line-up.

The 1981 football team was more successful than its 2-win 7-loss record suggests. We made a tremendous comeback against Enumclaw from a 14-point deficit and tied the score at 22 in the second half. Unfortunately, Enumclaw held on to win 29-22. Liberty, ranked 7th in state, just barely got by us in overtime. Proof that we had the ability, but inconsistency was our weak link. The junior varsity had just as much frustration this season, but our bright spot was the freshmen who had an amazing season with only one loss. At the banquet, Kevin Grillo was recognized for his field goal of 39 yards (a school record!), and earned himself the honor of most improved player. Jeff Allen was voted most inspirational and Chris Seiler was the team captain. The coaching staff consisted of head coach Warren Levenhagen and assistant coaches Steve Doutrich, Steve Scott, Bob Trask, Larry Stenson and Joe Cail. Statisticians Julie Hines, Sherlene Nereim, Jody Sanford and Tracy Hinkle kept the books and managers Rhonda Watson, Andrea Jorgenson, Brenda Lucas and Jean Lykan kept the equipment.

Cindy,

Alright summers around the corner. This year went to fast I hope next year is the same. We'll be big SENIORS that's to awesome. Maybe we can go to a dance again this time we'll have more fun. Hope to see ya this summer, but you'll be to stuck to call me anyway. (Just joking) Have a great vacation.

Exuberant team celebrated rain with mud fights

Coach "Goob" Guenther led the girls' cross country team to a 3-3 win-loss record and the boys to a 1-5 win-loss record in the Seamount League this season. Past teams have always prided themselves in their not so run-of-the-mill team reputation. This team was no exception. "Gooch," "Dippity-doo," "Snake" and "Animal" nicknames for team members who prefer to remain anonymous, made sure the team was just that... unusual. Cross country teams really are just a big family and the friendships that are built up over the season last. In one initiation new freshmen were promptly doused in mud after the first rain. This team was involved in activities besides running, such as Llama hunting in the Kent Valley. All of these unusual activities do produce good runners, though. Junior Jamie Straus was voted most improved and seniors Cindy Dresser and most inspirational Jeff Boyle and junior Shawn Haynes, next year's captain all earned themselves a place in the District meet. Cindy was unable to run because of illness. Shawn placed 37th with a time of 16.49 minutes and Jeff came in 39th with a time of 16.51 minutes.

- 1 Cindy Dresser puts in 30 miles a week to earn herself a place in the district meet.
- 2 Wes Randall and Russell Diehl strive together to finish the long race ahead.
- 3 Shawn Haynes and Jeff Boyle show the true meaning of team unity after a hard race.
- 4 Junior Shawn Haynes pushes toward the finish line where he achieved a 13-50 win.
- 5 Coach Guenther discusses with the girls team some pointers on how to improve their time.
- 6 Salam Noor and Jackie Villa warm up on the course for the meet ahead.
- 7 Staying together, Dana Hentges, Jackie Villa and Karen Kinley execute coach Guenther's meet strategy.
- 8 Cross Country, front, from left: Mary Crowley; second row: Dana Hentges, DeeDee Borunda; third row: Jackie Villa; fourth row: Karen Kinley, Tara Stevens; fifth row: Chris Burns; sixth row: Michele Brush, Cindy Dresser; seventh: Salam Noor, Brian Lewis, Shawn Haynes, Jeff Boyle, Irene Zatloukal, Russ Campbell, Jamie Straus, Devin Hermanson.

Totems make it to state for 2nd time in 2 years

Go Bananas! B-A-N-A-N-A-S! This year's girls soccer team was a little bananas but certainly successful. Victories came hard, but there were enough to win the Seamount League championship and go to the state tournament. What were the feelings of this together team? They felt that their most valuable player was goalie Marlene Hall who allowed less than one point per game average. Most inspirational was Lori Forbes who was also team captain. Lori was leading scorer for the 1980 and 1981 seasons with 16 goals and 12 assists. For the '81 season Sheree Sacco scored 14 goals and assisted five times. Most of the team members felt that in order to succeed they needed team unity, spirit and a banana a day. The banana was the official team mascot and apparently it was lucky for them. Many of the team members had played on soccer teams outside the school for five or six years, helping to make Totem soccer the best in the league. Coach Cox said that the many freshmen who turned out will do a lot to help build strong teams in the future to continue the winning tradition.

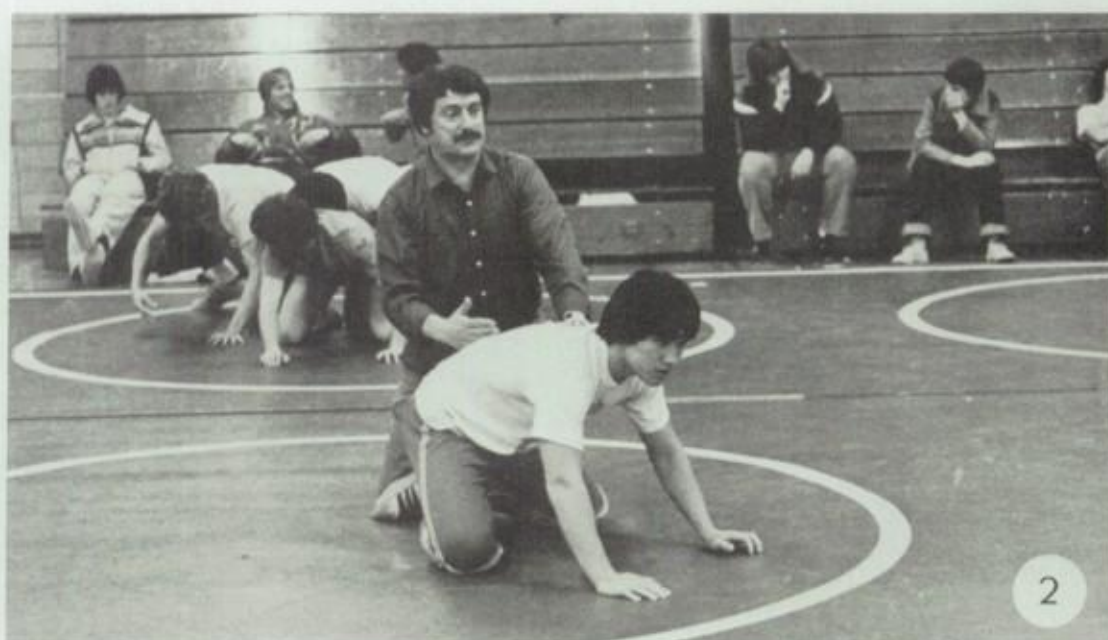

- 1 Tammy Miller takes time out to catch her breath.
- 2 Judy Roberts, who was sidelined with an injury, early in the season, shows her dedication by taking stats.
- 3 1981 Soccer Team: front row, left: Judy Roberts, Lori Forbes; middle row: Vicki Mummert, Shara Cabrerros, Cathy Cooper, Kathy Lawrence, Brenda Ensey, Tammy Miller, Sue Howe, Rhonda Watson, Sheree Sacco, Marlene Hall, Annette Bannbridge, Lisa Laurin, Michele Yurina, Linnea Forbes, Coach Cox, back row: Debbie Hanson, Nina Potter, Darcie Jordan, Teresa Herman.
- 4 Coach Cox prepares the team for their first state game against Meadowdale.
- 5 Freshman Darcie Jordan hustles to save the ball from going out of bounds.
- 6 During a non-league game against Foster, sophomore Teresa Herman strives to trap the ball.

Totems are into sporting thing

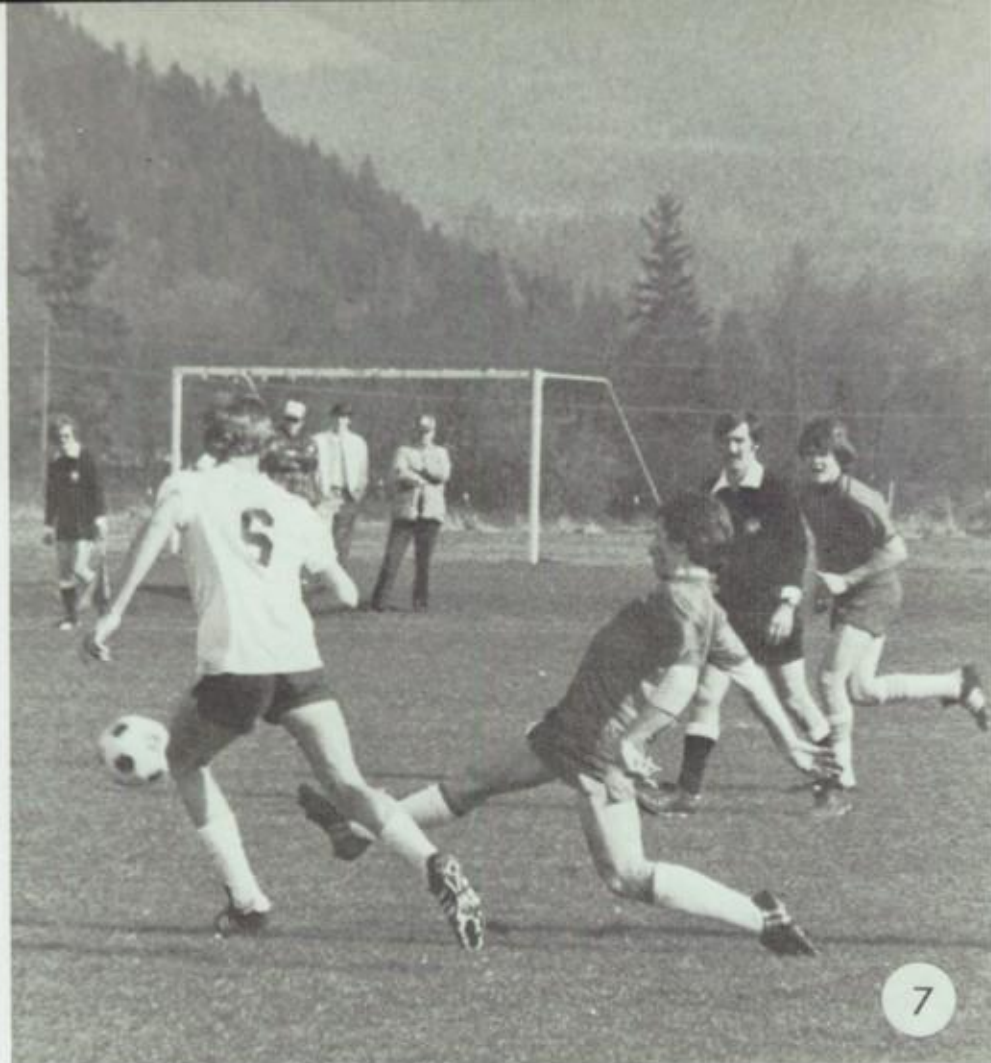

- 1 Senior David Warf during 6th period P.E. shows the style of a true one-hand dunk.
- 2 P.E. teacher Doutrich hesitates to ask: Do I really want to demonstrate wrestling with varsity wrestler Jaime Smith?
- 3 Senior Chad Torbergson who races in the progressive-pro division, is sponsored by Renton Suzuki and frequently races motocross throughout the Northwest.
- 4 At the Yamaha Gold Cup motocross race, which was held at the O.R.V. park in Olympia in August, senior Ron Shaff took first in two 30-minute motos in the progressive division.

- 1 At the DECA sponsored donkey basketball game, David Warf watches as a Tyee player takes a shot from the rear of the donkey.
- 2 Jeff Allen finds out that the mule does a great impression of a bucking bronco.
- 3 With complete concentration, Benita Wahl awaits the pitch.
- 4 Russ Campbell (left), Jeff Boyle, Shawn Haynes, and Jamie Straus warm up for a track meet by taking a few laps around the track.
- 5 Leftie Steve Redmond can hit a baseball almost as well as he can bounce a basketball.

Totems compete for 1st position with Mt. Rainier

The Totes overcame a four point deficit to win 5-4 in the second half against Mt. Si. Goalie Kevin Van Notric had several shut-out matches against teams like Enumclaw, Liberty, and Mt. Si. Tyee fought Mt. Rainier for first place, beating them in the second match-up 2-0, another shut-out. Boys' soccer followed tradition by producing an excellent team that went to the play-offs with hours of exciting play behind them and plenty to follow. Individual successes were seen in center forward Bill Walker with 13 points in the first 9 games. Team captain Kevin Grillo, who plays wing, had 9 assists in those same 9 games. coach Bill Cox along with his assistant K.C. Joyce brought the team to the finals with high hopes and a lot of talent.

- 1 Midfielder John Richardson steps out to prevent an Enumclaw opponent from going any farther down the field.
- 2 Junior Erik Weaver springs into the air for more height to head the ball.
- 3 Tyee's leading scorer with more than 11 points, Senior Bill Walker battles with Liberty's defense attempting to make a perfect shot.
- 4 After dribbling through three opponents, junior Tim Ritter passes for one of many assists during the season.
- 5 While looking for a teammate to pass to, midfielder Willy LaBossier becomes aware of the approaching defenders.
- 6 Following up on a pass, center halfback Brian Cabrerros works on moving the ball up the field.
- 7 Awesome wing, Kevin Grillo, strives to put the ball on the front line and add to his school record of more than 11 assists.
- 8 After bringing the ball to the ground, wingman Erik Weaver turns to follow up on it.

Francisco sets records in high jump, javelin

Under the direction of Coaches Guenther, Williams, Reed, and Krause, the Totem tracksters finished the season with many outstanding performances – the dashing 440-yd. and 880-yd. runs and relays, the painful low and high hurdles, the straining triple, long, and high jumps, the rewarding mile relay, and the challenging discus, shot put, and javelin. Captains Chris Seiler, Cindy Dresser, and Rhonda Watson, all seniors, provided inspiration to push the team to second place in the league. Senior Tod Francisco set records in the high jump, with a height of 6 ft., 4 in., and in the javelin, with a tremendous throw of 186 ft. 7 in. On the girls' team junior Sheri Wyatt holds the school records in both the discus and the javelin with throws of 113 ft. 3 in. and 101 ft., respectively. Rhonda Watson set the school record for the shot put – 37 ft. 3½ in. Cindy Dresser had the best mile time in the league, 5:21; and Vicki Mummert ran the 400-meter in 64.0 sec.

- 1 Vicki Mummert gives it all she has to finish the 400-m. after participating in two other events.
- 2 Lisa Hopkins receives the baton from Trish Brodigan in the 400-m. relay.
- 3 Coach Sue Williams stats as she waits for the next event.
- 4 Chris Seiler and Kent Wurdeman give their last push across the finish line in the 100-m. dash.
- 5 After running her best league time in the mile, Cindy Dresser high jumps, clearing the bar at 4 ft., 10 in.
- 6 Jeff Stefanick participates in two field events, the javelin and discus.
- 7 Jamie Straus straining to finish his last lap of the mile run.
- 8 Susan Kinley ran the 100-low hurdles once just before injuring her ankle.
- 9 Shawn Haynes takes the lead in the mile run which he won with a time of 4:26.9.
- 10 Sherri Wyatt positions herself to throw the discus for her 113 ft., 3 in. school record.

Cindy,
Hope to have you
in some classes next year! See ya this summer
love Jim Birch

1 David Warf flies through the air toward a 39-ft. 11½ in. triple jump.

2 Energetically, Rhonda Watson prepares to throw the javelin for a distance of 97 ft.

3 John Stoll shows all his man power while throwing the discus 112 ft 10 in.

4 Chris Seller passes the baton to Kurt Wurdeman in the 400-m. relay, bringing Tyee to a 1st place finish.

Youth makes itself at home on softball field

Strong leadership is what held this young team together. Of ten team members only two were seniors. These two were the hitting strength with shortstop Marlene Hall's .500 average and pitcher Maureen Johnston's .562 average. With such a small club, every girl saw a lot of playing time without a lot of relief. A competitive team, they did very well for being such a young club, and Coach Ancheta expects next year's girls to be a lot stronger. Sophomore left fielder Colleen Macready and junior center fielder Pam Cramer showed a lot of improvement on defense and offense.

1 Marlene Hall throws the ball into third base to put out Mt. Rainier's runner.

2 Judy Roberts starts a running dash to first base for a single.

4 Coach Ancheta gives the team their pep talk to prepare them for the coming game.

5 Pitcher Maureen Johnston prepares to strike out another of her opponents.

6 Freshman Donna Person strives for a home run.

7 Freshman Sheree Sacco fields the ball and throws it in for a second out.

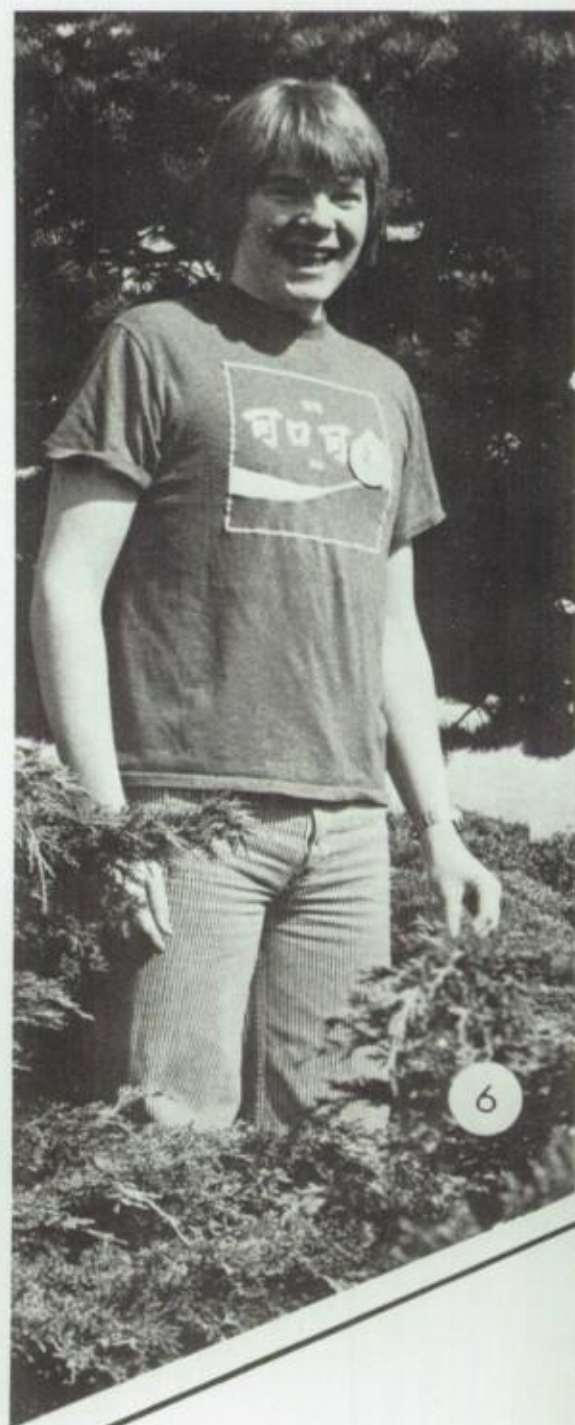

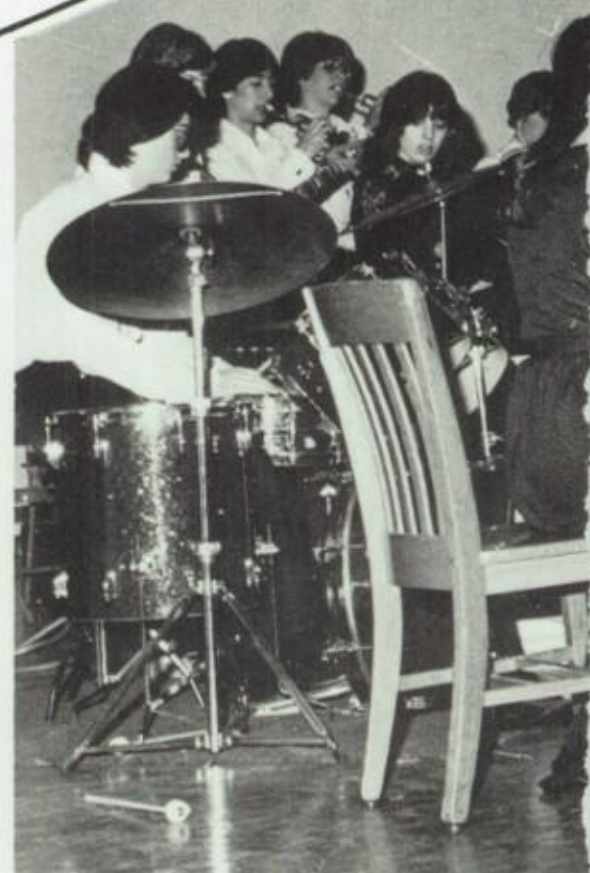

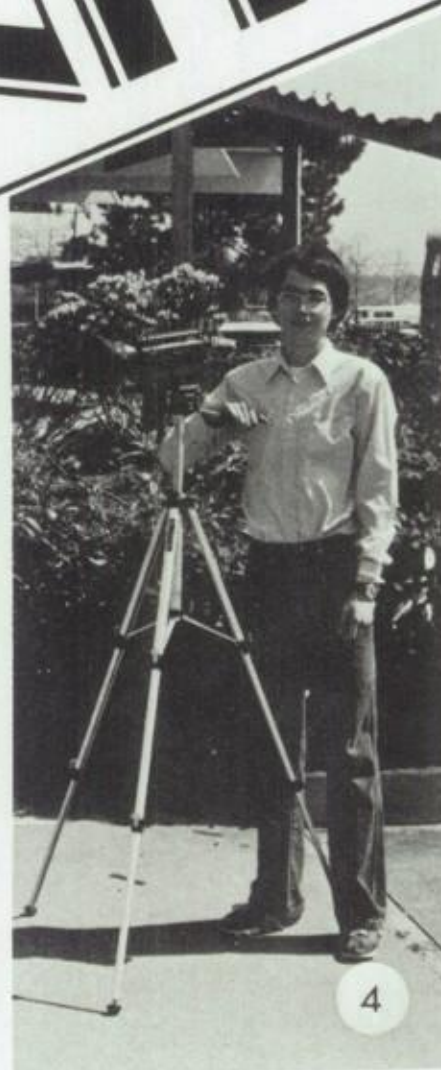

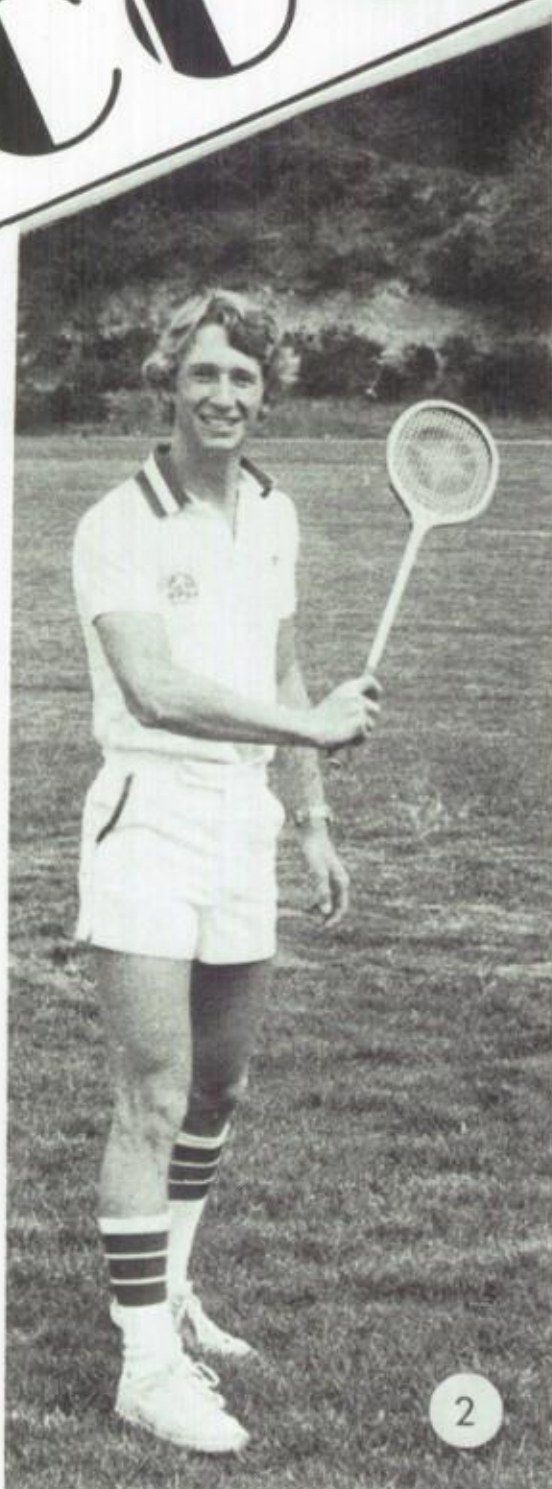

Totems get it together, win last 8 games

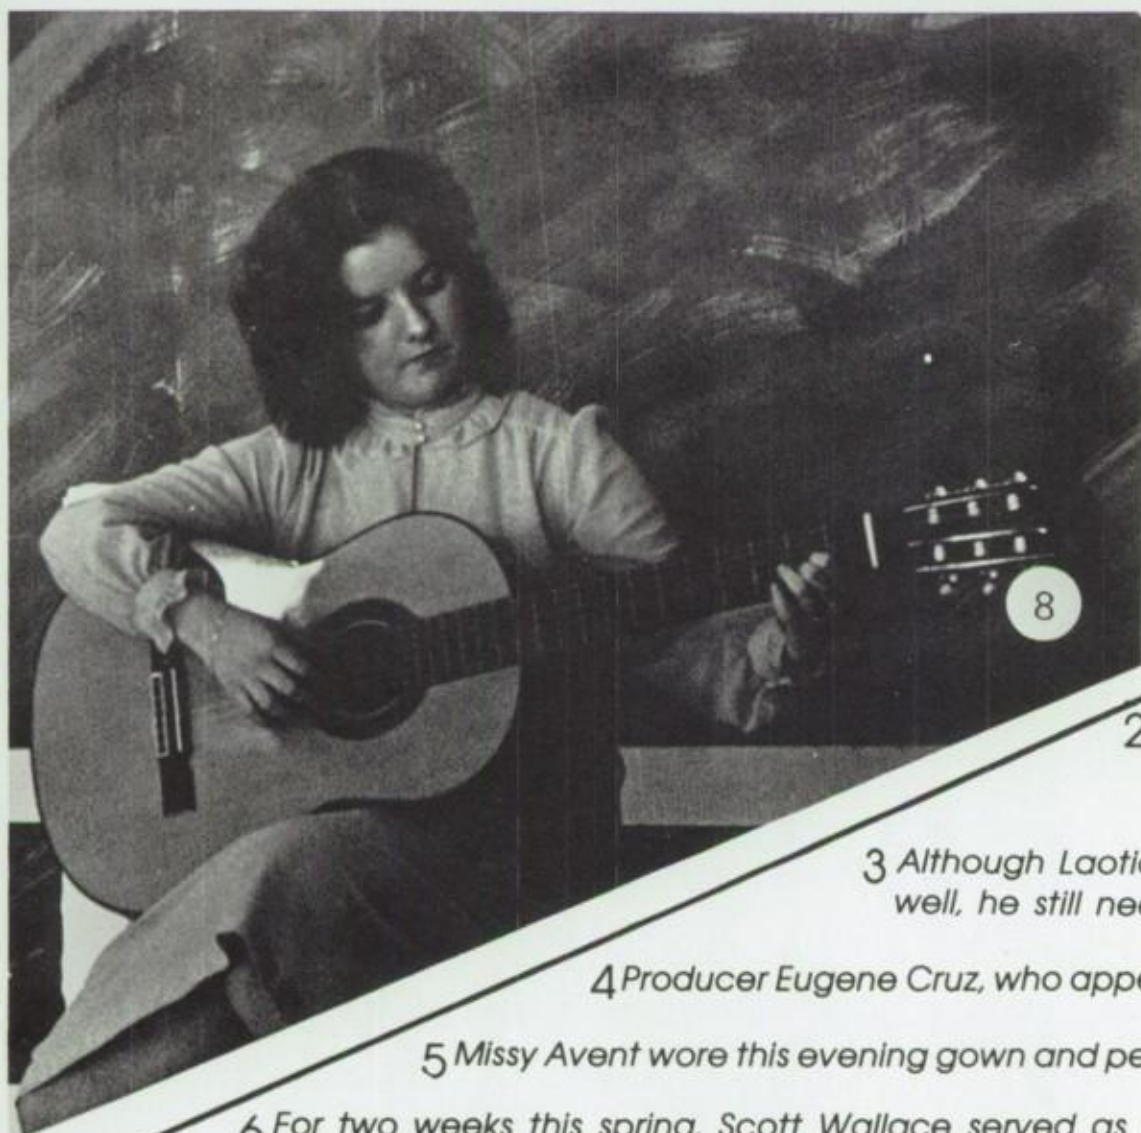

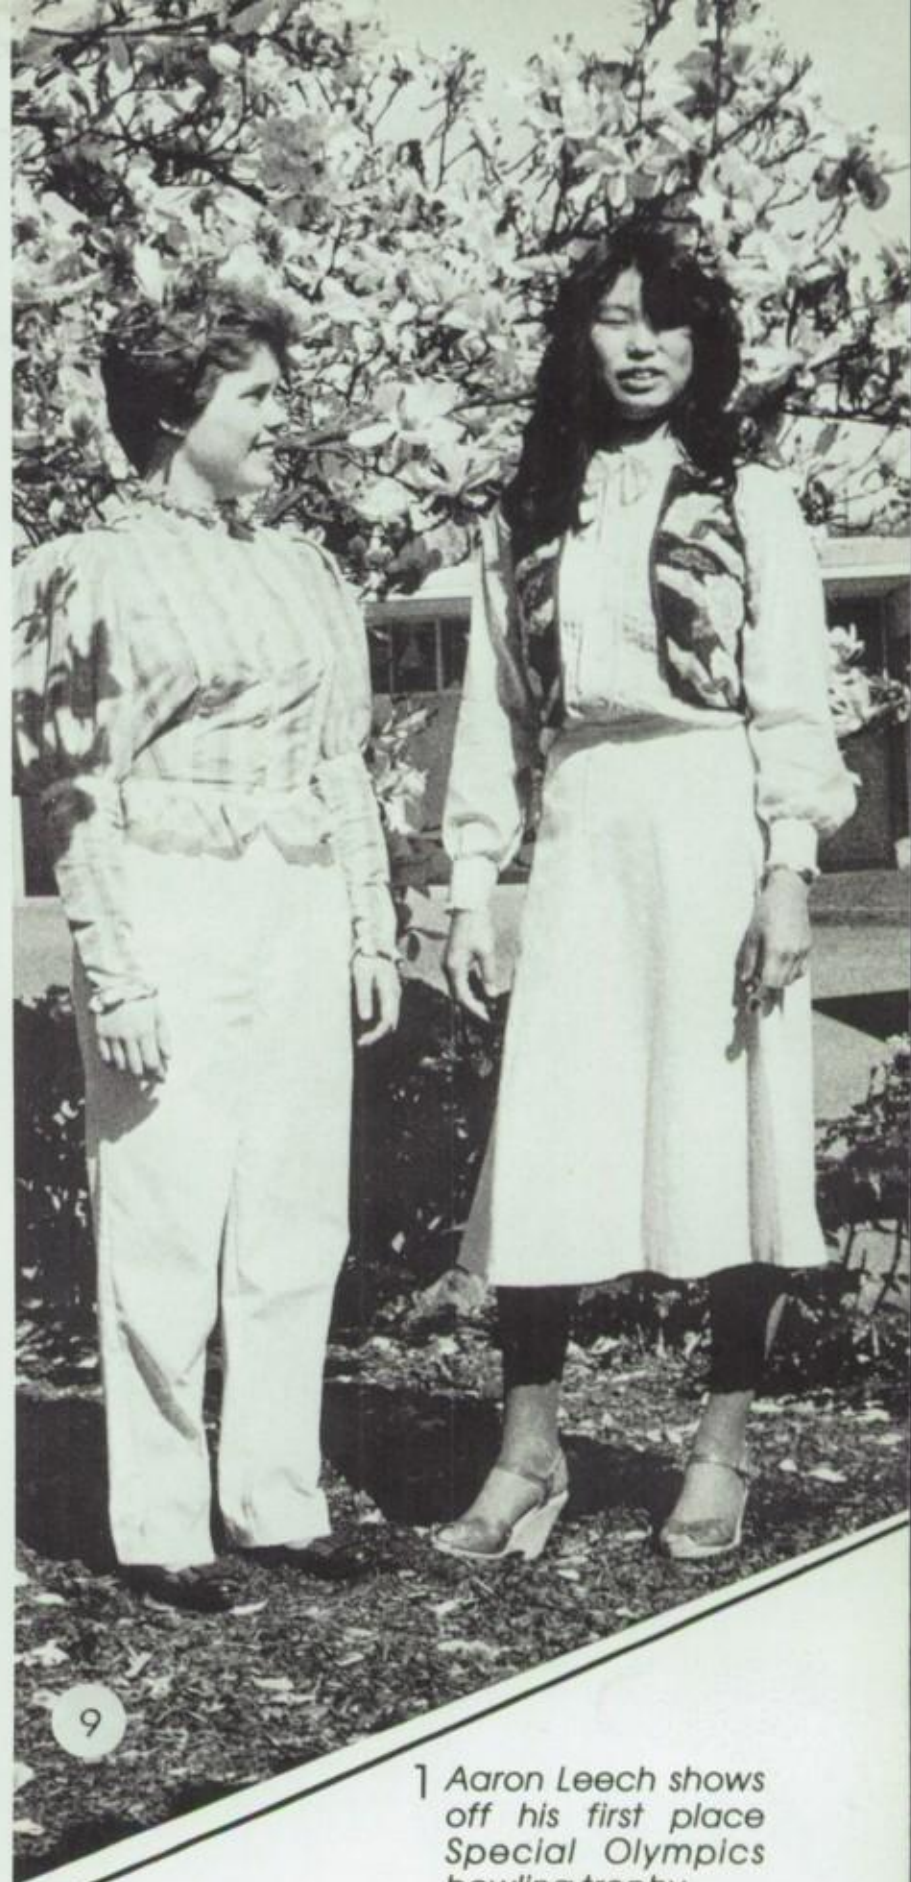

The '82 team which consisted of 18 players, four of whom were pitchers, kept astride the competition even though they had a slow start. In one memorable play against Tahoma, senior center fielder Larry Frostad practically flew into first base when he lunged for the plate. The team had a double play against Liberty when second baseman Mark Taylor caught the ball, tagged second, and threw to first baseman Mike Redmond for another out. A tough season made for a lot of improvement, coach Edmiston said.

- 1 One of four pitchers, Jon Krenning, winds up to throw the fourth strikeout in the three innings he pitched.
- 2 Chris Davis (21) heads for home on a sacrifice bunt by Mike Redmond, who was thrown out at first.
- 3 Pitcher John Anderson successfully attempts to throw out a Mt. Si runner taking off to steal second.
- 4 Second baseman Mark Taylor swings to hit a triple against Mt. Si, one of his three this season.
- 5 Mark Taylor puts out a Mt. Rainier player who tries to make it to second base after the hit.
- 6 Baseball Team: front, from left: Kelly Hunt, Debbie Burrington; middle: Lennie Poil, Jon Krenning, Jeff Small, Tod Byquist, John Anderson, Mike Starnes; back: ass't. stat Mary Signett, Pat Padero, Rich Burns, Craig Carlson, Steve Redmond, Kal Gunter, Jeff Burns, Mark Taylor, Todd Chute, Larry Frostad, Mike Redmond, Chris Davis, Coach Walt Edmiston, stat Linda White.
- 7 Coach Edmiston tells the team what to expect from the opponents they are about to face.
- 8 Pitching a two-hit game, John Anderson kept Fife down to only one run.

2 societies spotlight excellence

To become a member of Quill & Scroll, one must be a talented high school journalist, be in the top one-third of his class, show dedication, and ability in editing, writing, advertising, art, photography, or design. Twice this year, new members were initiated by tapping with paper hats and a formal ceremony. Honor Society recognizes excellence scholastically. To raise money for scholarships, they sold Almond Roca, Mountain Bars, and holiday-grams. Miss Rudy and Mrs. Marchbank, advisers for Quill & Scroll sponsored the current events test. Honor Society adviser Mrs. Crounse presented the scholarships at the Class Day Assembly.

Sleepy Hollow's Horseman rides to rave reviews

The old Halloween tale of the Headless Horseman provided a backdrop for this love story centered around Katrin VanTassel's fickle heart. "The Legend of Sleepy Hollow" was an exciting musical departure from the traditional Theatre Tyee comedy. The eight songs added a special quality that drew record crowds to make "Sleepy Hollow" the most successful play in the three-year Theatre Tyee revival. Seven weeks of hard work came to the test opening night, April 15. The three-night run raised over $600 and pulled the group into the black.

1 "I can feel the spirits of the mountains filling my mind." (Kathy Szyperski).

2 The crew of Sleepy Hollow: front, from left: Chris Schwartz, Audrey Smith, Carol Evans, Sandy Ashcraft, Lora Pennington, Grace Jackman, Jeff Kalin; back: Lisa Anderson, Chris Goe, Sharon Suddarth.

3 Ichabod (Bruce Nelson) romances Wilhemina (Patty Nelson) as her girlfriends melt. (Sondra Greensweight, Melanie Stensland, Beth Szyperski).

4 Patty Nelson fixes Kathy Lawrence's hair to make her look more like a mischievous little boy.

5 Hours of tedious work are required to paint an extensive Sleepy Hollow farm. (Jeff Kalin).

6 "But it was only a prank, Trina. We didn't know the schoolteacher was coming here." (Mike Criss, Sondra Greensweight).

7 David McKinney and Scott Wallace study the music of "The Headless Horseman" during one of many long practices.

8 "You'll hear the distant sound of thunder that will fill you full of fright." (Lora Pennington).

9 "Was this horseman real or was his ride the power of a child's imagination?" (narrator Sandy Ashcraft).

10 Cast: front, from left: Kathy Lawrence, Lori Stinger; second: David McKinney, Melanie Stensland, Chris Goe, Beth Szyperski, Erin Lacey, Grace Jackman, Bruce Nelson, Patty Nelson, Mark McCarthy; third: Sandy Ashcraft, Scott Wallace, Lora Pennington, Kathy Szyperski, Mike Criss, Sondra Greensweight, Julie Abbott, Sean Humphrey, Salam Noor.

11 "Katrina married to that ruffian, Brom Bones? I won't have it, Papa!" (Julie Abbott, Sean Humphrey).

'82 celebrates with 'Open Arms'

- 1 Marlene Hall, Larry Frostad, Tony Lyons, Lori Gibbon, Sheila Oberloh, and Erik Weaver relax while waiting for the crowning of the Queen.
- 2 Prom royalty, from left: Princess Galle DeSanto, Queen Susan Smith, Princess Sandy Kuxhouse.
- 3 John Satko and Julyn Smith prepare to cut the cake that John decorated for the dance.

The Junior Class had to work in order to set all the plans for Prom '82 rolling. From the beginning there were problems - the location had to be changed to Green River Community College and the date was moved to April 10. Plans for the band "Archer" fell through, so replacement "Captain Pinstripe" filled in. Finally, Prom '82 arrived - that special night of dining and dancing that came with the approach of summer.

The colors were silver, blue, and white, and the theme song was "Open Arms." A total of 150 people enjoyed the delicious cake donated by the chef at the Red Lion and decorated by senior John Satko. This year's theme was "Always look to the future but find your happiness in the present." Tyee students came away with a lot of happiness.

1 Mr. Alfred places the crown on Queen Susan Smith.

2 Princess Sandy Kuxhouse spruces up Dean Wenner for their picture.

3 Dancing to the music of Captain Pinstripe, couples move about the Lindbloom Center floor.

4 Alina Leyva and her date purchase tickets from John Barton and Gary Allen, juniors, who worked on the dance

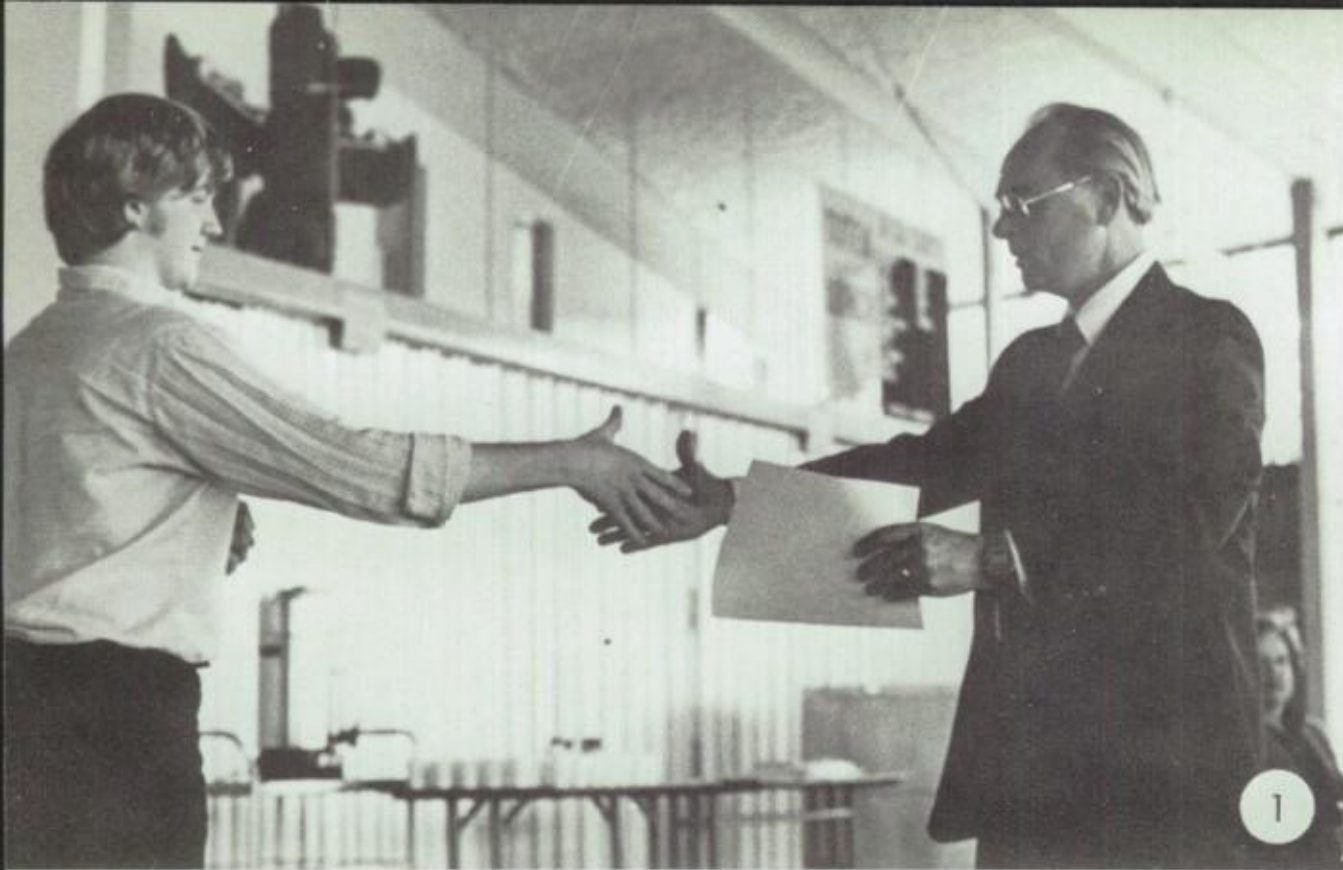

Dads honored by TASC at Dessert Dance

Taking time out to honor the fathers of Totem females has long been traditional, and this year's Daddy Daughter Dessert Dance was a complete success. President Shirley Kaatman, vice president Sally Min, secretary-treasurer Bev Brennan, and many dedicated club members made the evening possible and donations were taken at the door for the two TASC scholarships. Daddies and daughters danced the night away to the sound of Tyee's award-winning Stage Band which performed such old favorites as "In the Mood," "Stardust," and the "Bunny Hop." TASC held this non-profit dance April 22, in the cafeteria for 80 couples. Junior Melanie Stensland entertained the dancers with a tap routine to "Coral Reef." The evening of fun provided a time for making new memories and remembering old ones.

- 1 Senior Cindy Barnes concentrates on following her Dad's lead.
- 2 Mr. Barnes and Kris Hulse do the jitterbug.
- 3 Kathy Hedlund and her dad enjoy the music of "Louisiana."
- 4 Stage Band plays another tune for the Daddy Daughter Dessert Dance.
- 5 Rhonda Watson and her date dance to the music of the award-winning Stage Band.
- 6 Daddies and daughters get a bite to eat while the band takes a break. From left: Diane Vosberg and her dad, Marlene and Maureen and Mr. Johnston.
- 7 In front are girls with their dads: Erin Lacey, Laurie Adsley, Marcie McKay.
- 8 Margie Wills and her date dance to "In the Mood."

TASC gives diplomas at Faculty Tea

TASC members presented the teachers with diplomas commemorating their work and dedication to a Totem education at the Faculty Tea, May 10. "Pomp and Circumstance" was played during this time and club members sang an original version of "Gee, Mom, I Wanna Go Home" with personalized lyrics. The faculty partook of a large cake, punch, and coffee prepared by club members.

The Students at Tyee High School
Know the trouble they have made,
But really all you teachers,
We sure are glad you stayed ...
Gee, Mom, I wanna stay here!

1 Brian Hanline congratulates Mr. Z. for his outstanding service with a diploma as well as a handshake.

2 Mr. Alfred and Mr. Cox find it quite enjoyable to discuss business over pleasure.

3 Miss Rudy, Mrs. Crounse, and Mrs. Horsfall seem to find conversation with Mrs. Strange interesting.

4 TASC members honor faculty with a cake (inset) and a snappy song.

May night spent in her honor

"I appreciate my mom because she's understanding and she's always there." The hour-and-a-half program on May 13 included performers like Darla Maurice, who sang the theme from "Ice Castles" and Brian Hanline, who sang "Sunshine on My Shoulders." Christy Okazaki and Sally Min played three piano duets; Melanie Stensland, Connie Avery, Sherlene Nereim, and Jody Sanford performed tap and jazz dances; Marcy McKay did two Hawaiian dances, and JoAnn McClinn and Shelley Hobbs read poetry dedicated to Mom. Students of the month were honored and the new TASC officers were installed.

1 Sherlene Nereim, Jody Sanford, and Connie Avery go through one of the many difficult tap steps of their routine.

2 Mrs. Holmes, mother of sophomore Cara, enjoys some of the entertainment.

3 Miss Jan Hall, honorary mother, receives a corsage from Melanie Stensland, new TASC president.

4 Outgoing president Shirley Kaatman hosts the Mother's Tea.

5 Jan Jensen shows how much she appreciates her mother.

SKY Club helps with DDP'ers

Special Kiwanis Youth, SKY, new this year, serves the elderly and less fortunate. Although the year was mainly organizational, members were able to participate in varied activities, such as volunteering to help at Special Olympics by keeping score, and a raft trip down the Skagit River with DDP students in late May. Club members joined forces with DDP'ers to beat the teachers in the student-teacher bowling tournament in early spring. An Adopt-a-Grandparent program enabled students to choose a retiree to share activities.

Busiest club swings into year

- 1 Christy Okazaki, AST president, often plays "busy bee" even after Halloween!
- 2 Denise Moss and Amy Walsh get 'cooled off' by Danny Larkin, the "mummy man!"
- 3 Secretaries Verda Horsfall and Sylvia Gillis liven life by "bugging" the office on Halloween.
- 4 Seniors Hugh LaBossier and Dave McKinney toast the class of '82 with Welch's sparkling grape juice.

'Curious' audiences fill cafe

2 All eyes are on Hannibal (Chris Schwartz) as he expresses his opinion of music.

Those Theatre Tyee people really had to work in order to make "The Curious Savage" come off successfully and on time. Eight of the eleven cast members were brandspanking new to the theatre, so Mrs. Henderson definitely had her work cut out for her. But with a little luck and a lot of patience, the three-day run was successful. The play, written by John Patrick, centered around a woman who had to prove her sanity and earn her right to do what she wished with her money. Among the challenges of this set were building bookcases, filling those bookcases with cardboard books, fitting the set on a small stage and finding the props. It's sure that through the seven weeks of hard work, sweat, tears, fears and anxieties, the whole cast and crew benefited greatly from the experience.

- 1 Director Mrs. Henderson works magic with make-up to transform Tina Caudill into Florence Williams.
- 2 Miss Willie (S. Ashcraft) listens as Mrs. Savage (S. Greensweight) explains why she carries a teddy bear.
- 3 Titus (J. Greensweight), Lilly Belle (S. Suddarth) and Samuel (S. Bolinger) inspect a room at the 'Cloisters.'
- 4 Dr. Emmett (M. Addicks) assures Titus Savage that his mother will be in good hands.
- 5 Fairy May (K. Szyperski) tells Florence (T. Caudill) and Mrs. Paddy (J. McClinn) what she saw through the keyhole.

Calvin leads all King's men into Valentine dance

The second girl-ask-guy dance of the year was again successful and TASC was responsible. Advisers Miss Jacobsen and Ms. Kirschner helped president Shirley Kaatman, vice president Sally Min, secretary Bev Brennan and historian Kirk Lemoine organize the dance on Saturday, Feb. 13. The week began with stuffed animal day and red and gold day followed on Tuesday. One of the more successful dress-up days was Wednesday when everyone came to school in comfortable, warm sweats. Thursday was cowboy day and Friday was dress-up day. Also during the week, Tolo royalty was elected, and at the dance Saturday night, the Tolo King Wade Calvin and Senior Princes Mark Rhodes and Kent Wurdeman, junior prince Scott Anderson, sophomore prince Eric Perez and freshman prince Jeff Burns danced the spotlight dance "Endless Love" with their dates. The band was "Snap" and they were called back for an encore number.

- 1 Senior Wade Calvin was elected 1982 Tolo King by the senior girls.
- 2 Chris Goe, Lisa Lucas, Don Kuch and Dave Padgett watch the crowning of the royalty.
- 3 Linnea Forbes and Dean Wenner dance to the music of "Snap".
- 4 Tolo Royalty, from left: Senior Prince Kent Wurdeman, Senior Prince Mark Rhodes, Junior Prince Scott Anderson, Sophomore Prince Eric Perez, Freshman Prince Jeff Burns.
- 5 Rob Ashbaugh, Kathy Flynn, Mark Taylor, Lori Forbes, Charleen Blanchard, and Todd Chute talk and enjoy the exciting atmosphere of Tolo, while the band takes a short break.
- 6 Melanie Stensland used the theme "A Touch of Class" and a rose to design the Tolo program with the help of TASC.
- 7 Jodi Sanford and date Shawn Haynes dance the night away along with alumnus Brian Sleight.
- 8 Alina Leyva and her date boogie to the last dance of the night.
The dance gets off to a great start with a turn out of more than 122 people.
- 10 After being crowned, the Royalty dances to the theme song "Endless Love".

Kappenman kept square dancers reelin' all night

The first of two girl-ask-guy dances, Harvest brought 135 bluejean-clad couples together for an old-fashioned hoe-down. The dance was held in the gym, which meant that no shoes were allowed, so there were a lot of straw-covered feet. Kappie Kappenman called the dance as the dancers, from beginners to experts, freshmen to seniors, sashed the night away. TASC coordinated the dance as they have for years, and it's been a very successful activity every time. Dancing to the Bunny Hop, Virginia Reel and Heel-toe worked up a thirst, so couples would mosey on over to the punch bowl for a strong belt of orange punch. Perler Photography captured the evening's excitement on pictures, and favors shaped like cowboy hats served as lasting mementos of a fun evening.

- 1 In the largest of all the group pictures, 16 crowd in closely so that all may be included.
- 2 Lisa Anderson and Don Standard concentrate on not stepping in each other's toes as Kay Hudson watches.
- 3 Wade Calvin and Tracy Beltz "heel and toe" it down the gym with Leland Scifers and Tammi Passmore looking on.
- 4 Jackie Mah and Shawn Haynes bow to each other during the Virginia Reel.
- 5 A large portion of the student body spent Saturday night at school dancing to the callings of 'Kappie'.
- 6 Laurie Haynes notices the flash of the camera as she and Dan Larkin dance to "Oh, Johnny, Oh."
- 7 Chris Knipp, Sue Starnes, Chris Burns, Hugh LaBossier, Missy Chan and Mike Criss join hands, circle the ring.

Totems shine in easy win over Sequim

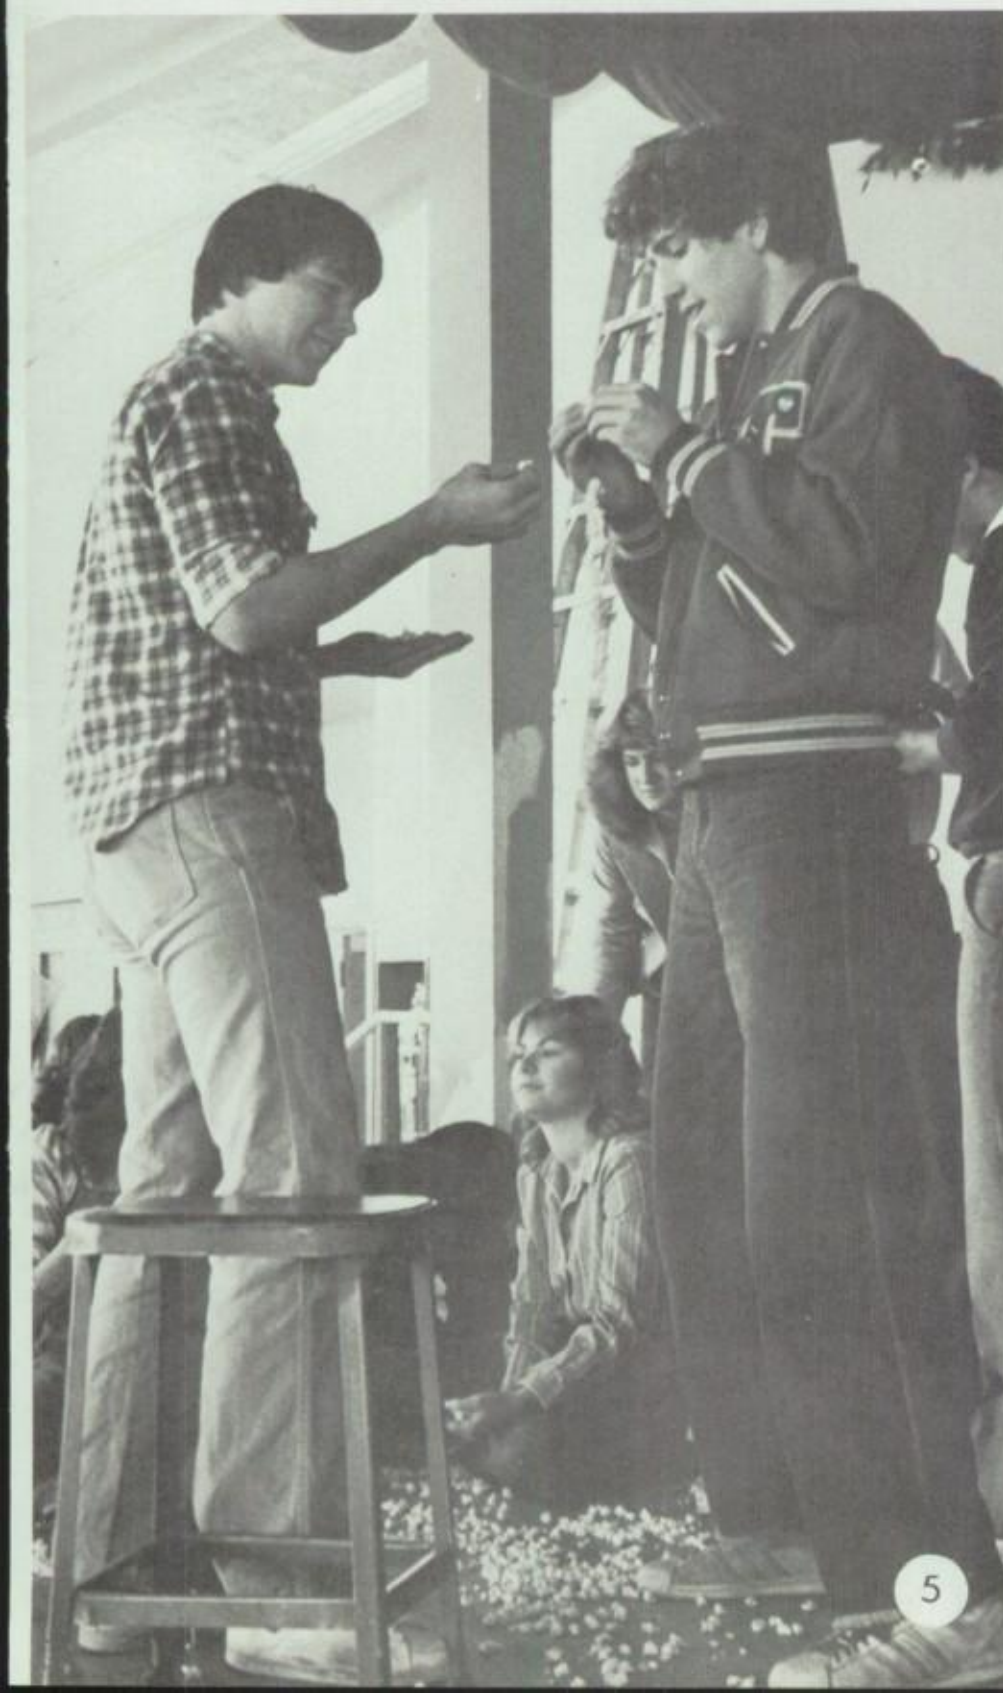

- 1 Homecoming Queen Jackie Mah and escort Kent Wurdeman pose for a royal picture.
- 2 Emcee George Minegishi introduces the Royal Court.
- 3 Crown bearer Jonny Szyperski, 6, and flower girl Vicki Szyperski, 3, walk carefully toward the podium.
- 4 Brad Thordarson escorts Junior Princess Susan Starnes on to the dance floor.
- 5 Sophomore Princess Lisa Anderson hides her nervousness as she walks toward the stage.

- 1 Senior Homecoming Princesses nervously anticipate the announcement of the Queen.
- 2 Shawn Haynes escorts Senior Princess Jodi Sanford from the assembly.
- 3 Senior Princess Amy Conrad enjoys the music of Sound Design.
- 4 Now that the crowning is over, Freshman Princess Nikki Larabee looks forward to the dance.
- 5 At the reception, Alumni Queen Leanne Boere congratulates Queen Jackie Mah.
- 6 While dancing with Mark Taylor, Senior Princess Lori Forbes thinks about the day gone by.

Easy win over Sequim boosts spirits at dance

Every year we take time out to honor the alumni of Tyee High during Homecoming week. Royalty is elected, floats are constructed and preparations are made for the dance. This year's class competitions, held at lunchtime, were the popcorn stringing race, donut jump, hot wheel chariot race and musical chairs. We had various dress-up days such as t-shirt and hat day, Christmas tree day, toga day and inside-out day. At the final assembly on Friday, Sound Design performed for the first time and Stage Band entertained us with several jazz selections. The royalty consisted of a princess from each class, except the senior class which had three, one more than usual because of a tie. Mr. Zevenbergen crowned Queen Jackie Mah and at the game the next evening our princesses and queen looked on as the senior float, a velvet-covered golf cart, won the competition; Tyee won the game 56-34 against Sequim. The band for the dance later that night was Hard Times. Alumni Queen Leanne Boere and date Rich Marlow danced the spotlight royalty dance with Queen Jackie and her princesses as seniors looked toward the next year when they will be coming back home.

- 1 George Minegishi and Melanie Stensland dance to the music of Hard Times.
- 2 Cathy Cooper and Chris Seiler say hello to another couple during the royalty dance.
- 3 Long time couple Jeff Boyle and Shannon Krutz enjoy the Homecoming atmosphere.
- 4 Alumni cheerleaders join in the traditional Pawnee: Karen Belongia (81), Wendy Sheldrew (80), Laurie Hay (80), Cindy Canter (80).
- 5 Preparing for Homecoming and Christmas, J.J. Davis and Rob Ashbaugh competitively string popcorn.
- 6 During Homecoming week Tammy Johnson peddles her way to victory for the freshman class.
- 7 Laurie Haynes pins a boutonniere on Mr. Rants as Darla Maurice thanks him for his efforts with Sound Design.

Cindy,
 it's been great...
 having you Spanish
 these past year. It would have been pretty boring without you & Jeff in there. Well, have a great summer, and take care.

Love always,
 Randy Hanson

all the things you've helped me with. ~~and~~ I really appreciate these times! I guess you know how scared I am about _____ but I know whatever happens will be easier with you as a friend. Please don't drift any

Our high school days

Filled with won games, lost assignments,

Golden times spent with special friends.

Through each experience we learn as

Days multiply into years.

farther away especially now when we get hear the end of our school years, the times when good friends are so important. I hope you have a great vacation, wish I was going, but things just didn't work out. Anyhow, I have a good job, babysitting Mikie's Ryan and will make a lot of money. We'll have fun and don't miss Mark too much. Call me as soon as → you get back, and it mean right when you you think i've wrote enough? it do!

is coming soon and then its party time time! Take care and keep in touch!

What does the future hold?

Friends we've known go their own way;

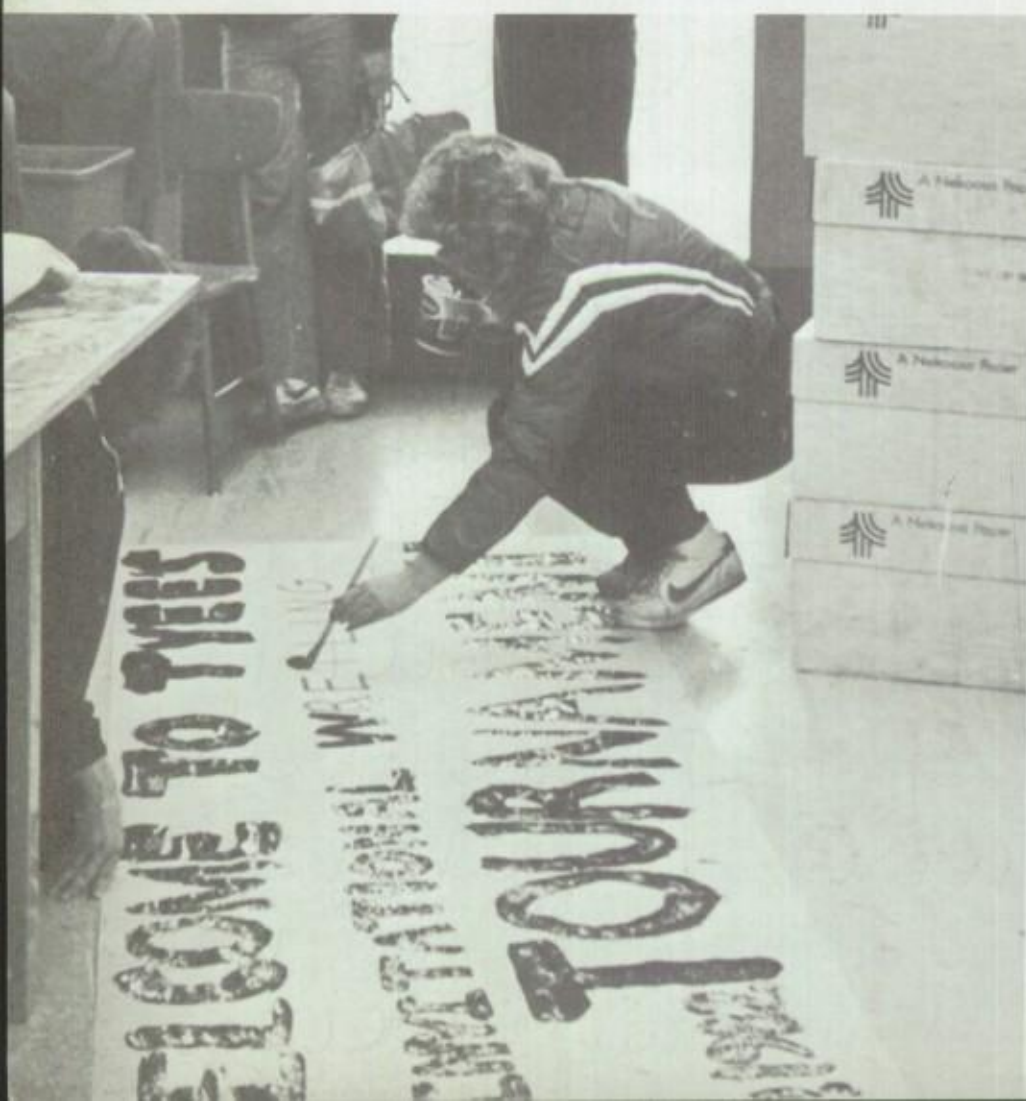

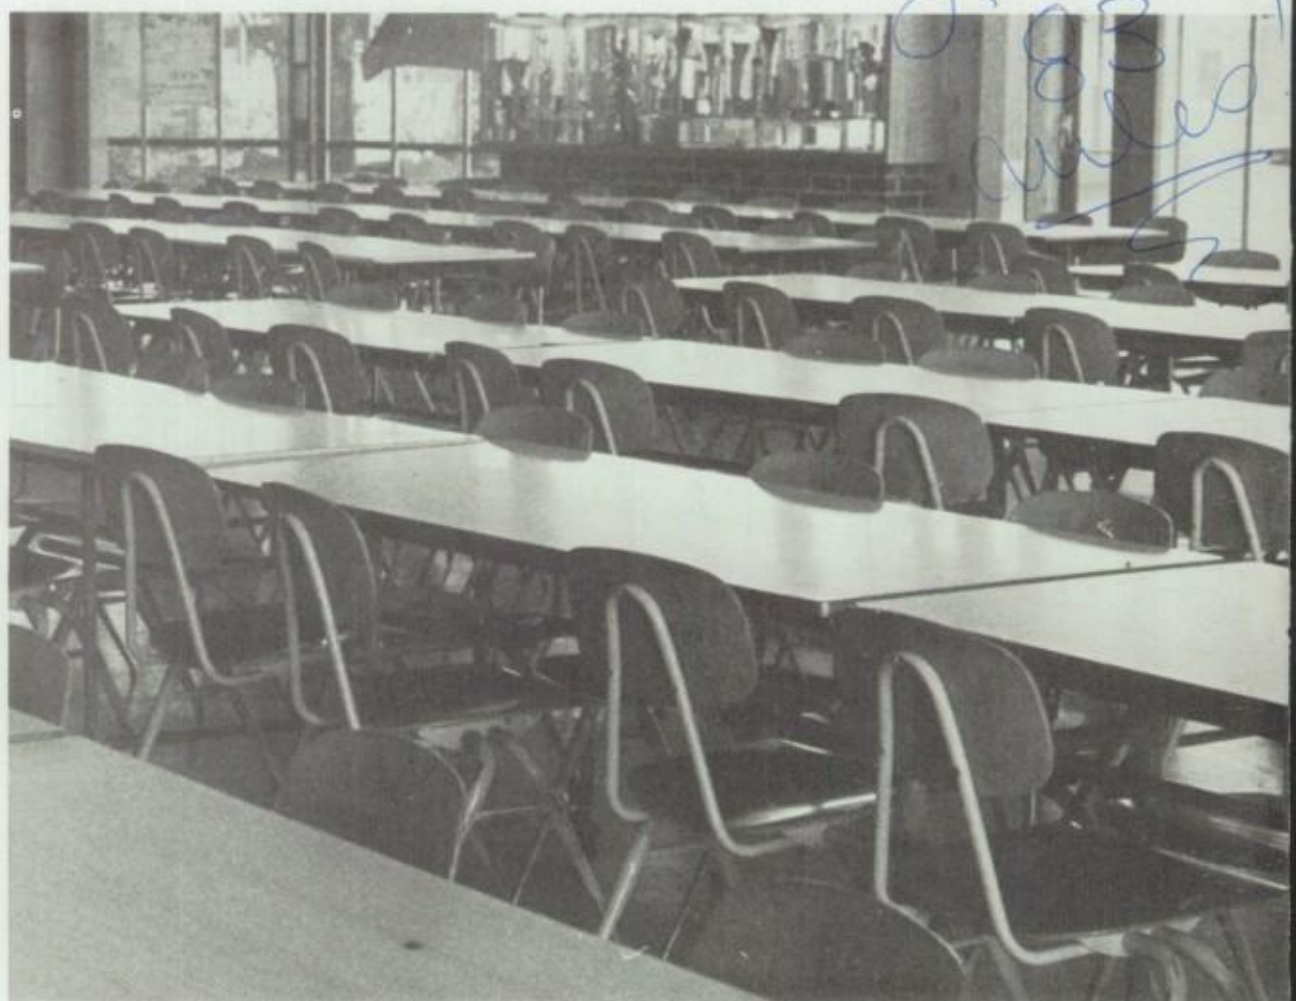

The future unfolds to envelop

Us in responsibility—

Fearfully, tearfully, we grow.

keep looking ahead because our grad.
and hopefully Hawaii

Hail to thee, O Red and Gold,
Our high school banner we'll uphold;
With loyalty to thee we sing,
Of victories our halls will ring.
In years to come like days gone by,
We'll always be true to thee, Tyee High.
Tho' we'll soon depart,
Thy mem'ries will ever live...

Cindy Jo (CJ),

Well I have the whole period to write this to you so it will be a long one. I really miss going out with you all the time, but I'm glad you found someone special like Mark. I wish things hadn't got messed up about going on vacation with you. You know we never did go on a double date, when you get back have Mark get a hold of Keith ok! That is if you want to. I'll have money when you get back so I want to take you out somewhere for dinner and then go off, if we can find time. It seems like we've been slipping apart lately, but I know we are still good friends. Do you realize what you and I have gone through together? We sure have grown up since Jr. High, though, no more parties in the woods, walking any where we went, and mostly depending on parents for everything. I guess I'm getting kind of sentimental now, only because you are a very best friend. Now we are seniors and are getting closer to going out on our own, and I think of

Cindy
Well only 1 more year for you 2 more schools finally out, I suppose this summer you'll be with Mark all the time. I hope you guys last along time. You 2 make a cute couple. Well I'm sure I'll see you at a few party's this summer.
Take Care and don't never get in a fight with Mark

Cindy

It's been nice having you in 2nd Period (I'd say 4th)
But you can't talk in 4th)
Have a nice summer I'll
Be calling ^{you} pretty soon
My hair needs to be shortened

KR

Cindy, Wasn't history fun! ha. ha.!!
God we made it. I didn't think we would.
I can't wait to tell next year its gonna be fun. Well have a great summer and be good, or at least don't get caught!!

Jim Myers

Cindy,
didn't get to see
much of ya this year but life's hard! Well only one more year for you and after that were up there! Well, like everybody else says, I hope you have a great summer! I'll probably see ya at the lake, (or the Park) I'll be the crazy fool jumping the bike into the water!
Well don't break too many hearts and take care, and stay sweet.

Cindy,
 I hope you had an excellent year I did. Well your a Senior just a junior but what the hell were happy aren't we. In so glad were still ~~to~~^{caps} friends its been a long time since Jr. High. I know I'll be seeing you both settled down you got Mark and around. Well now we both knew it would happen sooner or later.
 I got Kevin well I hope Mark and you last a very long time.
 you really taught me alot over the years and have listened to me when I had problems thank so much I hope our friendship ~~lasts~~^{caps} lasts a life time.

Friends Always

Cindy, Popular, Popular, Popular,
 There's no room in this book to write ya so I have to squeeze it in this little space. You take care of yourself this summer, and of course, I'll be seeing ya around. Love ya,
 Pamela
 Crum

Cindy,
 I am really glad I had you in Spanish
 these last two years. You're so pretty and nice. I'll probably see you this summer!!
 Love ya,
 Marty
